At Wilmington, N. C., the deadly toy pistol claimed three victims Christmas.

Mrs. Hannah Barret died in Boston, Mass., on the 25th ult., at the age of 108.

Mr. Marion Calhoun is going to make the race for tax receiver of this county.

A forty-five story building will soon be started in New York, to cost $10,000,000.

All the federal prisoners in Atlanta were given a splendid dinner on Christmas day.

In Atlanta Christmas day fully 1,000 poor people were given dinner by the Salvation Army.

In New York the Salvation Army on Christmas day distributed dinner to 25,000 poor people.

We understand that Mr. Moses Moore will likely be a candidate for tax collector of Lumpkin county.

At Auburn, N. Y., last week, ten thousand volts were necessary to end a negroes life in the electric chair.

Sumter county had a cyclone Christmas morning. Two persons were killed and many houses blown down.

At Mahom City, Pa., a man hit his thumb recently with a hammer and died from the effects of it soon afterwards.

Marietta, Ohio, the home of Gen. Warner, the president of Crown Mountain Co., had a $235,000 fire on the 26 ult.

J. A. Owens of Atlanta, is going to push a wheelbarrow all the way to St. Louis on a wager made with a friend a few weeks ago.

Col. George T. Cann has been appointed by Gov. Terrell as judge of the Eastern circuit to fill the place of Judge Barrow, deceased.

Mr. John F. Sargeant, while in the office a few days ago, informed us that it is probable that he will be in the next race for sheriff of Lumpkin county.

Pension Commissioner, John W. Lindsey, will commence distributing pension money on the 20th inst. Fultons comes first. Hall county on the 4th of February, Fannin, Gilmer, Towns, Union, Rabun, White and Lumpkin on the 23rd of February, and Dawson on the 24th.

John Harris, the Atlanta negro who murdered Patrolman Harris in that city, who is sentenced to hang the 15th, says, "I have made my peace with God; I am happy in the thoughts that I will soon be with my Maker." If there was any chance to hear from this fool negro after he is hanged you would find him in a different place.

Miles Crane of Dawson county, who was sentenced to the federal prison in Atlanta, April 4, 1902, for two years for moonshining, was given a little over three months for good behavior, and was given his freedom on the 26th ult. Quite likely this will be a warning to Crane and he will take no more Christmas dinners at Uncle Sam's table.

Anthony Polsen, a blacksmith, 85 years of age, who resided in Pennsylvania, is dead. He was known as the man who never sat down for forty years prior to his death. He never left his home and could not stand still. He always ate his meals walking. He worked at his trade all the time and was in robust health. His nervousness was due to the fact that forty years ago he came near being run over by cars. Since that time he never left his place of business.

A Remedy for "Wet" Elections.

EDITOR NUGGET:

In your last issue I saw an article signed "Voter" in regard to having our next election held without the use of whiskey, and in the same, he asked for a remedy. I give you below a good remedy and hope that it will be adopted. I think that this is the proper thing to be done, and I for one, am ready to support it.

Yours,

M. J. WILLIAMS.

Dec. 31, 1903.

A new gold vein has been discovered in Northern California, running from that state into Oregon. It is called the Yank Ledge, and is said to be forty miles long, of great width and depth, and as rich as any similar deposit ever before discovered. There is a rush to the diggings, and several large smelters are being erected. — Marietta Journal.

It is estimated that $4,000 worth of liquor was sold the day before Christmas by the Rome dispensary.

X-Ray to Turn Negroes White.

To every southerner it is a well-known fact that the impostor who goes down among the negro cabins with a implexion bleach for sale always reaps a harvest, says the New York American. In many southern cities are local ordinances for the prosecution of such men to protect the negroes from themselves. To have the skin of a white man or woman is a thing infinitely to be desired.

Now there comes forth a scientist of Philadelphia, a man of highest reputation, whose statements receive the support of equally reputable scientists of this city, declaring that with the use of the Crook's tube, or X-ray, he can turn the complexion of the blackest man to a beautiful, soft, creamy white color.

The claimant of the startling discovery that the negro can be made white is none other than Dr. Henry K. Pancoast, of the University Hospital of Philadelphia. He is an X-ray expert. He has used it in the treatment of a cancer and of skin disease with a success that has been universally recorded in medical journals.

On the desk of Dr. Pancoast is to be found numerous photographs of negroes—photographs without the slightest attempts at coloring—revealing a remarkable condition of the negro's skin. In some cases large patches of the skin show white. In others small patches are shown. In two cases Dr. Pancoast avers that, with the aid of the mysterious tube, he has completely changed the patient's complexion, making, in short, white out of black.

A newspaper editor who was sleeping in time of church service was suddenly startled by the following words in a loud voice from the pulpit: "And why stand ye here all the day idle?" and unconsciously answered, "Because they don't advertise."

At the close of Christmas in Atlanta fifteen boys were at Grady hospital for repairs, caused by toy pistols. A tax should be placed on dangerous weapons of this kind so heavy that it would stop the sale of them every where.

Brooding over his inability to purchase suitable Christmas gifts for his three motherless children, Joseph Phillips, a Hollowville, (N. Y.) farmer, slew them with an ax and then hanged himself.

DAHLONEGA, JAN. 7, 1904.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.
Official Organ of both City and County.

North Carolina had only one lynching last year.
Mr. F. V. Moose thinks of running for tax receiver.

It looks very much like Russia and Japan are going to have war.

The state republican convention convenes in Atlanta March 28, 1904.

The lives of 8,265 persons were wiped out by the great casualties of 1903.

Zero weather everywhere in the east. The most continuous in 26 years.

The recent grand jury of Sumter county raised the valuation of tax delinquents more than a million dollars.

Hon. R. W. Freeman of Newnan, Ga., has been appointed judge of the Coweta circuit, to succeed the late Judge Atkinson.

Mr. A. L. Jackson of Cane Creek informs us that he is going to make the race for tax collector, and will announce in due time.

Mr. W. D. Hancy is thinking about running for sheriff and Rev. V. A. Higgins has a small legislative bee in his hat. Col. W. P. Price is also spoken of.

We didn't receive any free holiday gifts but on New Years Day we were given an order by a couple of gentlemen for 120 extra copies of the Nugget, which was both pleasing and beneficial to us.

When wanting a large number of extra copies of the NUGGET be sure and send in your orders the Friday afternoon before they are issued, as we generally print our first side on Saturday morning.

We are glad to learn that Mr. J. V. Harrison, formerly city marshal of Dahlonega, has been elected Chief of Police in Gainesville. Mr. Harrison is a good reliable gentleman and will do the thing that is right.

Beginning with the first of the year, all druggists and soda fountains that deal in Wurtzburger compounds must pay the state a special tax of $200. Also druggists filling prescriptions containing whiskey, and he cannot order whiskey for a customer without being liable for the $200 tax.

Gen. James Longstreet, the "war horse of the confederacy," died of pneumonia in Gainesville last Saturday rather suddenly. The general fainted up on his bed and a great gust of blood came from his mouth and through the old wound which he received at the hands of his own men through mistake at the battle of the Wilderness, and he fell back lapsing into unconsciousness.

On December 30th, 564 people were killed in ten minutes during a fire in the Troquois theatre at Chicago, caused by an electric spark catching the curtains. A few of the people were burned to death; many were suffocated by gas, and scores were trampled to death in the panic that followed the mad rush of the frightened audience. Their clothing were torn to rags of bitfired to cinders and their faces were trampled in to an unrecognizable pulp by the heels of the crowd that trampled them down as they fled for safety. They shrieked and raged and cursed all in the same breath. Some died cursing and some died praying. While this was going on thieves were robbing many of their valuables until arrested by the police. More than six bushels of valuables and trinkets were gathered up in the theatre afterwards. A dozen of the theatre managers have been arrested, charged with accessory to manslaughter. Fourteen other theatres in that city have been closed by order of the mayor on account of not being finished according to law.

Mining Notes.

The work down at the Barlow is progressing profitably as usual under the supervision of Mr. Tregent.

The directors of the Crown Mountain Gold Mining Co. have a meeting here today, the object of which we are not aware.

Persons wishing any information about The Jumbo Gold Mining Co. of this county will find out a good deal by reading a card of the same to be found on the 4th page of this issue.

Mr. Wharton Anderson continues saving much of the yellow metal at the celebrated Calhoun, which is known by every body acquainted to be one of the best gold mines in this whole country.

Mr. Campbell still continues prospecting on the Singleton property, not having had enough rain yet to strengthen the power sufficiently to enable him to operate both mill and cnt. The mill, however, has been kept running pretty regularly beating custom ore.

So well pleased was Mr. Lin of the McAfee-Lin Mining Co., with the mine while down recently, its management and even the work of the common laborers, that he sent them each a Christmas present. Such acts of appreciation and kindness as this will long be remembered by them and cause all to be active in their duties.

The Ingersoll & Crisson dredge boat in the Chastee river continues to gather up the yellow metal from the bed of that rich stream in paying quantities. All along it has been taking up a lot of nice nuggets, and in the clean up last Saturday after a five days run, it was found that a perfect nest of nuggets had been scooped up, many of them weighing from one, two and three pennyweights, aggregating in weight, 127 1/2 pennyweights. Dredge boats are one of the best paying investments we have in the mining business. They can be run at all seasons, whether it rains or not.

The Garnet mine in the upper portion of this county, although splendid property, will not likely be operated again until its owner in New York completes a gold saving machine he has been at work on for the last twenty years. Good large veins have been opened up years ago but the old gentleman won't work the mine himself nor allow any one else to do so. What a pity it is for such valuable property as the Garnet to remain idle. The gentleman sent for a lot of black sand from the mine not long ago and it is hoped that he has his machine, or whatever it is called, completed, and that work at this place will soon be resumed.

Now Frogtown district, in this county, is coming to the front in mining circles. Prospecting has been going on for some time in a small way on a two hundred and fifty acre lot in which Mr. James T. Grindle is interested. Some time ago Judge Huff went up to examine it and he told us that it was good property and that a vein he saw was worth from $10 to $15 per ton. Since that time they have been following the vein and find that it grows richer. A half pound rock from this vein was beat and panned a few days ago and it produced at least fifteen cents worth of gold as believed by all who saw it.

Dr. Herbert E. Smith Dean of the Medical College of Yale New Haven, Conn., and Col. J. Z. Frazee, President of the Mining and Development Co., 41 Wall Street, New York, spent the latter part of last week looking over the "Josephine Mine" and expressed themselves as well pleased at the progress being made. The dam is about completed—a day or more will finish that. All the men were put on the dam last week fearing high water might come at any time during the long dry spell. Some work was done on the mill but none will be done this week. The mill is to be raised and engine and boiler to be placed. Dr. Smith came to inspect the gold fields of Georgia and the "Josephine" in particular, and was much pleased with the location, leads and panning. He took a good many samples of ore from the different leads and will report on the same when he returns to New Haven, which will be some time first of the week. The Doctor expressed himself as pleased with what he saw. The new year will show greater activity in the mining sections of Lumpkin county than any time since mining men have directed their attention southward.

The "Briar Patch," which is owned by The Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Company, seems to be on a big boom from the way Mr. Joel Miller was going around here new year's day. He was looking after giants and piping and getting estimates from Mr. Ricketts on the cost of building dredge boats, etc., and otherwise was all smiles in anticipation of his clean up at the placer. He informed us while here that he had closed up some very valuable water rights for the Company and intended to put in more hydraulic lifts at once and otherwise move out in the way of making big improvements at the mines. This is one of the biggest placer and hill mines in the Georgia gold fields, and we expect big things from this mine for it is all right, and the right man in charge. We know whereof we speak for we have known Mr. Miller for many years and always found him strictly honest and attentive to business, and those who own an interest in this valuable property can feel absolutely safe, for their interests will be well guarded. Later—We hear that the clean-up at the "Briar Patch" was more than satisfactory, and Mr. W. I. Rush, in company with a party of Western miners are on the ground and are very enthusiastic over the big showings and the amount of gold found in their panning on this property. The McAfee-Lin mine, adjoining the "Briar Patch," is fast coming to the front. They have only run the mill a very few days, and the plates are showing up fine indeed, much better than the foreman in charge expected for so short a time.

Except to keep the water down in the shafts no work was done on the Jumbo during the holidays. Last week a number of capitalists visited the property. These parties were from Indiana, North Carolina, Washington City and Atlanta, and all without exception, were well pleased with what they saw, and expressed themselves in the strongest terms of approval of the conservative manner in which the prospecting and other development work were being executed. One of these parties said that he was not only surprised but really astonished at the amount of gold shown in some of the veins by panning. He said for instance, "such a vein as the Mistle vein found out West would be heralded to the four corners of the earth by the associated press as a Bonanza." This Mistle vein not only grows larger but richer with depth. There never has been a panning or assay from this vein but showed the ore to be worth over thirty dollars per ton, and it is thus uniform for the entire width of four feet, something unusual for this or any other section. We are informed by the management—with the amount already sold—and the amount they can really depend on being placed in the next few days, that all the stock will soon be disposed of. They expressed themselves as being delighted with the present outlook. So far everything, development work, stock selling, etc., has far exceeded their expectations. Soon as the stock is placed, or the amount desired to be placed at the present low price, the erection of the plant will be commenced. The year 1904 promises to be one to date from in the development of the Georgia gold mines. With the new year development work was resumed on the Jumbo and will continue unabated until the work is completed.

The Old and New Council.

Last Monday night the old city council, after finishing up its business, stepped down and out, and turned over the affairs of the town for the next twelve months to the new officials as follows: Mayor, R. H. Baker, re-elected. Aldermen, E. B. Vickory, W. B. Townsend, re-elected. T. J. Smith, J. E. McGee, re-elected. Those holding over: W. P. Price, Jr., E. W. Strickland.

The outgoing council has certainly made a good showing and performed its work well, as will be seen by the finance committee's report to be found elsewhere in this issue. Marshal Walker also shows that he has not been idle, as will be observed from his report for December, as follows: Sanitary taxes $138.28; city property tax $1.38; 18 cents street tax; $4.50 fines and cost, $80.00. Total, $107.06.

After the mayor and new members were qualified W. J. Worley was re-elected city clerk, compensation to be $2.00 for his services at each regular meeting. W. P. Price, Jr., was elected treasurer for the ensuing year, to receive a commission of one-half of one per cent for collecting and the same for paying out. Geo. W. Walker had no opposition for marshal and was re-elected, at a salary of $37.50 per month, same as last year.

The following committees were appointed by Mayor Baker: On finance, J. E. McGee, chairman, E. B. Vickory, W. P. Price, Jr. Street committee, W. B. Townsend, chairman, T. J. Smith, E. W. Strickland. The street tax was fixed at $3.00 or in lieu four days work. Dog tax, same as last year, $1.00 for dogs and $2.50 for females. It was agreed to have a night watchman for the next three months and Lafayette Carter was chosen at a salary of $20.00 per month.

It having been reported to the body that Mrs. Levi Stancil of our Stock and poultry have few troubles which are not bowel and liver irregularities. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is a bowel and liver remedy for stock. It puts the organs of digestion in a perfect condition. Prominent American breeders and farmers keep their herds and flocks healthy by giving them an occasional dose of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine in their food. Any stock raiser may try a 25-cent half-pound airtight can of this medicine from his dealer and keep his stock in vigorous health for weeks. Dealers generally keep Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine. If you do not, send 25 cents for a sample can to the manufacturers, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Local News.

Mrs. R. H. Baker spent Christmas with relatives in Atlanta.

Mrs. Strickland has returned from a visit to Swainsboro, Ga.

We cut off all the names of persons who failed to renew, and for the month of December received 48 new subscribers.

There was so much ice in the river this week as to cause the Ingersoll & Crismon dredge boat to cease moving for awhile.

A little child of Mr. John Adams, who resides in the eastern portion of the county, died a day or two after Christmas.

Prof. Davis of the N. G. A. College and Mr. Howard Stanton spent several days across the Blue Ridge hunting during the holidays.

Mr. Rufus Ledford was wedded a few days ago to Miss Mollie, a daughter of Mr. David Anderson, residing in the upper portion of this county.

NOTICE TO DEBTORS.—We would thank you if you are due us, either by note or open account, up to January 1, 1904, to come and settle by the first of February. So, if you owe us come and pay up and save cost, as all accounts positively will be put out for collection after February 1st, 1904.

J. F. MOORE & Co.

Last week we noticed on the hotel register the names of Judge W. W. Murray of Huntington, Tenn.; Col. A. G. Sharp of Atlanta, Ga.; and Messrs. J. H. Terhune and J. L. Kilgore of Anderson, Ind., and Mr. F. H. Thatcher of Washington City. They all went up and took a look at the Jumbo Mine, accompanied by Mr. Hubbard of Asheville, N. C.

It gives us pleasure to state that Mr. G. H. McGuire, the jeweler, who has been a resident of Dahlonega for several years, has declined moving to Dawson county, and will remain with us. A man of such an occupation as that of Mr. McGuire is useful to a town and we can't tell how bad we would miss him until he is gone. He will be found at his same old stand ready to do any kind of work in his line.

On Saturday, the 26th day of December, two men, carrying a Winchester, supposed to be the Armour brothers, so badly wanted by the sheriff of Banks county, ate dinner at Mr. John Hollifields, down on the Chestatee river. Mr. Hollifields was away at the time. They claimed that their names were Wilsons and that they had been working at New Holland and were on their way home to the mountains, about 30 miles distant. They paid for their meals and enquired the way to Parks & Bowens store, in this county. After being told they started out in that direction, but their tracks showed that they didn't go far that way until they turned and hunted up and down the river for a boat to cross in. The same day one of the Adams' house was broken open and a sack of flour and other stuff carried away. It seemed to trouble one of these men to get up when sitting. He claimed that it was rheumatism. It is said that one of the Armours was shot in the leg a day or two previous in Banks county by parties trying to arrest them.

Several new students came in this week.

Dr. Avis, president of the N. G. A. College at this place, attended the 15th annual session of the Southern Educational Association held in Atlanta last week.

We now have telephone communication with Blairsville, via Gainesville, Cleveland and Young Harris. The first message was sent over the line last Sunday. It was a long round about route but it got there all the same.

A few lines local in the Nugget a few days ago by Mr. J. M. Brooks caused him to get to purchase mules from Fannin, Union, Dawson and Lumpkin counties. This proves that it pays to advertise in this paper.

Strayed—Some two months ago, one Berkshire gilt hog, about 8 months old, weighing about 75 or 80 pounds, unmarked. Any information will be thankfully received, besides a liberal reward will be given.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

We were unable to enjoy Christmas on account of being sick, but have greatly improved and are getting along all right now, for when we went to trim our great tree the other night its temper was so much better than the scissors it broke them.

Narcissie, a daughter of Aunt Linda Stevens, col., gave the old woman such a dose of laudanum Friday night that it required Dr. Head to arouse her the next morning. This should be a warning to Narcissie not to give her patients too much medicine at a time in the future.

A few weeks ago Henry Shelton of White county, was arrested on a warrant sent up to Cleveland from the sheriff of Lumpkin, charging him with selling liquor in this county, and he was brought down and lodged in jail here until last Monday the defendant was turned over to the U. S. authorities by order of Judge Kimsey, for violating the revenue laws.

U. S. Deputy Collector White of Macon, Ga., paid Dahlonega his first official visit last week. He didn't tarry long in town but went off and assisted in the destruction of two illicit distilleries. One was located within a short distance of old Cedar Mountain camp ground, and the second one was found in the other side of the county. The operators were absent at both places and no arrests were made.

P. L. Abbott will conduct a singing at the Baptist church next Sunday at 3 o'clock.

Dr. Jones has purchased some five or six acres of land in the rear of Prof. Boyds, which he is getting in shape for cultivation.

Our sanctuary was visited last Monday by Mr. J. H. McKee of McKees, Ga. He reported things very quiet down his way Christmas.

Mrs. Levi Stancil, sister of Revs. J. C. and V. A. Higgins, died at this place yesterday and will be buried today at the expense of the county.

You will find a partial list of the things Parks & Bowens of this county had stolen from them before Christmas, and the amount of the reward they offer.

Mr. Wm. Boyd, a cousin of Mrs. B. P. Gaillard and Prof. J. W. Boyd of Dahlonega, had them his first visit a few days ago. Mr. Boyd resides in Missouri.

Now, if the Baptist people here can succeed in getting as good a pastor as the Methodists have, we may look for a big increase of religious work in Dahlonega this year.

Messrs. W. E. Ricketts of Dahlonega and J. H. Redmond of Gurford, Fla., left yesterday for Hernando, Fla., where they go to construct a dredge boat for a Savannah company.

Some days ago the bondsman of Martin Wehant, Jr., learned that he was leaving for parts unknown, but it was not long however, until Martin was landed safely behind the bars of the county jail.

The college doors were opened again last Tuesday morning and the professors and students greeted each other with a happy smile. Though their separation was but a few days, they were proud to see each other again.

It was reported here Christmas day that Will Palmer, the left-handed fiddler who use to live in Lumpkin county, had shot and killed him a man in Gainesville, but it was afterwards learned that Palmer had only used a brickbat on Jim Edmondson's head.

We are glad to learn that Mrs. B. P. Gaillard, who has been sick quite awhile, is able to be up again. Mrs. Gaillard always takes an active hand in helping to make all the little ones happy Christmas and her presence was greatly missed by them during the last holiday.

The fight between the two Hamp brothers in this county Christmas day, should be a warning to all who drink liquor. If the stuff will cause two of the most peaceable brothers in Lumpkin county to get mad and beat and bruise each other up unmercifully, what would have been the result had they not been a kin?

Mr. D. O. Johnson of New Bridge, before Christmas, rented a store house and dwelling in Dahlonega from Mr. J. M. Brooks. Mr. Johnson comes here for the purpose of educating his children. He is a good citizen and we welcome him to our midst. Mr. Johnson also expects to cultivate some of Mr. G. W. Bruce's land.

Just after Christmas Sheriff Davis went out into the country after Warren Sullins, who is wanted in Lumpkin Superior court. When Sullins saw the officer coming he ran and jumped into the Chestatee river where the water was waist deep and waded across, leaving the sheriff on the opposite bank watching his movements till he disappeared.

Gordon, the negro minister who use to preach at the colored Methodist church, has been called again for this year. This is the preacher who told in Dahlonega that a certain negro woman after killing herself, came and talked to him at his bedside, a short while after she departed. A preacher of this kind who can talk to either dead or alive, should have a wonderful influence.

There is no smallpox in Dahlonega now.

Now is the time to turn over a new leaf and fix resolutions for 1904.

New subscribers for the Nugget have been coming in from every direction.

Christmas afternoon, while a certain gentleman was out hunting, he discovered a right nice little pocket this side of the Finley Ridge.

Mr. John Hatfield and Mr. Will Vaughn, who have been down in Alabama, came home to take Christmas with their families, and both remained.

The Christmas trees at the Presbyterian and Methodist churches were said to be very nice and made many of the hearts of the little folks glad.

NOTICE.—To all persons who are indebted to us either by note or account will please come forward and settle at once. Remember we cannot carry over accounts as we have done heretofore. Goods that we use to get at from four to six months time we now get from 30 to 60 days on, are now billed cash. So you see the situation. If you do not come at once we will be forced to put them out for collection.

ANDERSON & JONES.

Saturday after Christmas, Wash and Dennis Walker and Bob Christian, while under the influence of liquor, went to Joe Castleberry's house, a harmless negro residing near Auraria, and robbed his premises. Joe was up here and there was no one at home except women folks and a sick boy, and these youngsters had all their way for awhile. The negro swore out a warrant soon afterwards and put it in the sheriff's hands, but the boys' parents plead to him so hard to make it up at their expense, that he came in and took up the warrant. This should learn them a lesson.

We are glad to state that Christ mass passed off with but one fight in Lumpkin county, that we have heard of. In Dahlonega not a single row occurred. There was a little drinking but the liquor seemed to be of a good quality, causing all who used it to stay in a good humor. This fight referred to, occurred between Bill and John Hamp, two brothers who live together a few miles from Dahlonega. After getting full of liquor they got mad and went out into the woods alone and fought with their fists for about an hour until both became exhausted and returned home with their faces badly bruised and bleeding. There was no one present to part them and they had it their own way. They still live together as good friends as ever.

BARBER SHOP.

WHEN wanting a nice clean shave, hair cut or shampoo, call on Henry Underwood, first-class barber shop in every respect, where he will be found ready to wait on you at any time.

Alfalfa, or Lucern.

Alfalfa, or lucern (Medicago sativa), has been known to the world for more than twenty centuries. It is a native of Western Asia, having been found growing wild in the region south of the Caucasus mountains. The Romans used it as forage for the horses of their armies and it is cultivated in Italy at the present time. It was introduced from Italy into France and Spain and the Spaniards carried it to Mexico and to the west coast of South America. It was brought from Chile to California in 1854 and from there it soon spread over the arid regions of the Pacific Coast and the Rocky Mountains.

DESCRIPTION.

It is an upright, branching perennial from 1 to 3 feet high; specially adapted to dry climates, and withstands drouth much better than ordinary clovers. Under favorable conditions it will live from eight to fifteen years and does not run out as clover does. The leaves are slightly rounded in outline and toothed near the apex. The flowers are purple and do not form a head like our clovers, but are in long loose clusters or racemes. These flowers are borne all over the plant, instead of at the top, as in the clovers. The seeds are found in spirally twisted pods and are kidney-shaped, yellowish brown, and are about one-half larger than red clover seed.

HABITS OF GROWTH.

Alfalfa is a deep feeder whose taproots, if the soil is loose, penetrate to the depth of 10 or 12 feet, and under especially favorable circumstances they may go 25 feet or more. "The young plant consists of a number of low branches springing from a simple or basil stalk at the crown of the root. These branches ascend directly above ground and form a compact tuft. On the old plant, however, certain of the more robust stems elongate underground and become new branch—producing stocks. In this way the simple stock, or rhizome, becomes two or many headed."

If alfalfa is grazed very closely the stems die down to the roots and new buds spring up at the crown of the roots and form new stems. This method of growth explains why so many farmers have reported that it is destroyed by continuous grazing.

It grows best in a light sandy loam underlain by a loose subsoil. If the subsoil is heavy and stiff and impervious to water, it will not be a success, no matter how well the surface soil may be prepared. It succeeds best where the soil is rich in lime, potash, magnesium and phosphoric acid. Lime seems to be most essential to its rapid growth. The land must be well drained.

PREPARATION OF THE SOIL.

Try to put it on land that has had clean cultivation for a year or two, and do not become discouraged if you do not get the best results the first year—alfalfa does not reach maturity until the third or fourth season. You cannot succeed unless your land is plowed deep. It would be much better to mind you expect to get from two to four cuttings each year for from three to fifteen or twenty. After it is plowed harrow and re-harrow until it is in fine condition. More poor stands are attributable to porous, open, cloddy land than to any other cause. The seeds sprout, the roots start down, and soon strike a cavity, and then of necessity die.

CHAS. W. DAVIS,
N. G. A. C.

Now for Independence.

In the meantime, brethren, raise as much corn and feed as many hogs as possible. It is exceedingly gratifying to receive ten cents, and even twelve cents, for cotton. Such a price is in sharp contrast with the price of a few years ago. But that is no reason for trying to raise during the coming season twice as much cotton as you raised last year. How dependable is your labor? Have you settled all your obligations at your merchants? Do you see your way clear for carrying on the year's operations without running into debt? How about your fertilizer bills? Will your implements and machinery do full service? Will you not be able to do better work in the prospect of a full corn crib and a well stocked smokehouse? Think of all these things when you are mapping out your plans for cotton. Make it, if possible, your surplus crop. Don't mind what your neighbor does. You are to care, primarily, for yourself and your family.

The past twelve months have been full of sensations, affecting everybody in contact with cotton from the grower of the staple to the wearer of the finished goods. The situation has had its ill for many. It has aroused unusual interest on the part of government officials, some of whom, it is regrettable to record, have gone beyond the bounds of propriety in their dealing with the question; on the part of the manufacturers, who naturally become apprehensive when the prices of the raw material rise, and on the part of city farmers, the speculators, some of whom are feeling badly because they had raised no cotton, and had nothing to sell when the time came to make their promised delivery. Bulls and bears have raged in the markets, and not a few lambs, deceived by the bears, have become mutton for the bulls. With reason to be grateful to the bulls, the cotton farmers have reaped the greatest benefits. They have attained a degree of prosperity and independence not enjoyed by them in many, many previous years.

Cotton-growers may remain independent and increase their advantage in that respect. The way is clear. Let each individual, before he arranges for his cotton crop, see to it that provision is made for his sufficient supply of hog and hominy. That's hereby an old consideration of advice that it is cheaper in the long run to raise your food than to buy it.—Southern Farm Magazine.

The Supreme court of Minnesota, in a recent decision reversing a Nobel verdict lays down the principle that a citizen has a right to comment fairly on the conduct of a public official and that the publication of such comment in newspapers is not libelous.

Of course advertising brings results. An East Texas man advertised for a wife and got one—with six children.—EX.

Alfalfa, or Lucern.

SOWING THE SEED.

I think alfalfa should be sown in the fall in Northern Georgia. As the young plants are very tender, seeding should be done early enough, so that these plants may get a good start before cold weather begins. I think it should be sown here not later than the 15th of September. At the Tennessee Exp. Station two years ago good results were obtained by seeding on the 20th of October. On the College Farm of the N. G. A. C., we seeded one acre to alfalfa on the 23rd of October and almost every plant was killed by the cold weather. The delay in seeding was caused by the dry weather. If there had been a good rain immediately after the sowing, so that the plants would have grown rapidly, we very probably would have succeeded in getting a good catch anyway. This same land will be seeded in the spring, about the first of April. The objection to spring sowing is that it would be more liable to be choked out by obnoxious weeds.

If sown broadcast, from 15 to 25 lbs. of seed per acre may be used. Cover the seed very lightly; a brush or light harrow is sufficient. If convenient roll the land after harrowing. It is a waste of time and money to sow alfalfa on weedy land. Remember you must inoculate the soil with bacteria in order to succeed. If you doubt this we can furnish you an object lesson here at the college, so that you may see for yourself.

Inoculation may be done in two ways: 1. By taking the soil from land where alfalfa is grown and scattering it broadcast over your ground just before, or at the time you sow the seed. First examine the roots of the alfalfa from where you expect to get your soil; if the roots have a number of little nodules, the soil may be used for inoculation. Scatter at least 200 pounds of inoculated soil per acre. 2. The United States Department of Agriculture will furnish you inoculating material on application. These dried "cultures" are put up in small boxes with accompanying chemicals and directions. These "cultures" are dissolved in water and sprinkled over soil or manure, which is then scattered over the field.

The bacteria which feeds upon red clover, peas, beans, &c., do not feed upon alfalfa. This is why inoculation is necessary, except in some parts of the West where bacteria is naturally in the soil.

ALFALFA HAY.

To make the best hay, it should be cut about the time the first flowers appear. If left longer the stems become woody, and are unfit to be eaten by stock. As soon as the leaves are wilted (not dry and brittle) it should be raked into windrows and left for a while, then removed to the stack or barn. It should be handled as little as possible. After the first year from two to five cuttings can be made and the yield is usually from two to five tons per acre.

It is the best hay that can be fed to horses, and with its use the grain ration can be cut down one-half. It is rich in nutritive properties. The dry hay contains 12 to 14 per cent of digestible protein, and 12 per cent of fat. This is almost a complete food for any class of live stock. Even hogs will eat the hay.

Why not grow this interesting plant? Try it on a small scale at first. You will not only provide an excellent quality, as well as a large quality of forage for your stock, but at the same time you will be enriching your fields, and doing it with a fertilizer which would cost a good deal of money if purchased in the market. One of the beauties of alfalfa growing lies in the fact that when once established it requires no cultivation.

A Letter From Mr. J. H. Abercrombie.

BARNARD, KAN., Dec. 30, 1903.
DEAR NUGGET:

I would like to know how all my old friends are getting along back there. I wish they all were here to enjoy this fine weather. We haven't had any snow or cold weather this winter. We husk corn in our shirt sleeves all the time. Corn is good, making an average of 40 bushels per acre all over the county.

We have a telephone from our town. Every farmer has one in his house—stays at home and talks to his townsman. Also have free des. Every. Get our mail at the door every day until it seems that we have all the advantages. The city fellows land has doubled in price in the last few years.

I have been to Canada since I saw you all. I bought a section of land there. It is a fine country, but I won't take up space to tell about it now.

Put my name on the list for the NUGGET for a year. I will send the amount when I get the paper and know how much to send.

Yours truly,

J. H. ABERCROMBIE.

What a Boy Did.

Earl Burchfield, a fourteen-year-old boy of Attalla county, Mississippi, made last year, unaided, four bales of cotton and one hundred bushels of corn, besides a bank of potatoes and other vegetable found about a well-regulated farm, worth on the market about $500. That boy is to be commended. Although but fourteen years of age, he seems to have been pretty well educated, and if he sticks to the school he is now attending he is likely in a few years to become one of the best educated men that the South could have. But he had better be on his guard; before he knows it he will have a lot of social reformers of vagrant minds on his trail with a child-labor law. In an adjoining story they tried to pass a law laying the foundation for the prevention of anyone becoming of value to the community as a producer before the age of sixteen. But they failed, though they have been having a grand hurrah ever since over a skeleton-like compromise. It will be a sad day for the farmers of the South and for their sons when the agitator attempts legislation to limit labor on the farm.—Southern Farm Magazine.

Hicks' almanacs are nearly all gone. Thirty cents a piece gets them. They tell you all about the storms and cyclones that are to come.

On Christmas day a certain married man, after getting on a few drinks, offered a girl fifty cents to kiss him. She declined, which shows that money is not as scarce and needed as badly as some people claim that it is.

The price for announcements of county candidates in the NUGGET will be $2.50 up to the democratic primary, and 50 cents from then till the election. Independents $8.00, and the money must come in advance, be it friend or foe.

A Happy New Year.

Yours For Trade.

Tennessee to be Sued.

It is stated that in a short while papers will be filed with the clerk of the United States Supreme court at Washington seeking to enjoin the state of Tennessee from allowing the operation of the Ducktown copper mines, which are located in Tennessee, it being alleged that the fumes from the mines are injurious to the property of Georgia.

This unique case is sure to attract widespread attention for it will be the first instance where one state has sought to enjoin another state from allowing the operation of an industry.

The injunction will be sought on the ground provided for in the United States constitution which provides for such an emergency when the property or dominion of one state is injured from causes emanating in another state.

The suit grows out of the fact that the sulphurous fumes from the Ducktown copper mines has killed vegetation in Georgia for a radius of one mile from the mines, which are located very nearly on the state line.—Atlanta News.

All merchants and business men living in Lumpkin should have pride enough in their home county to give its printers their letters and other job work, matters not whether they live in Dahlonega or not, especially when it can be done just as nice and cheap as in Gainesville or elsewhere.

Pensioners of Lumpkin county will bear in mind that theirs will be paid to Judge Huff on the 23 of February. We know of some good old needy soldiers in this county who ought to have a share of the pension money, but they have failed up to this time to make the required proof.

Last week we noticed two chimneys blaze out the same day here. People should not forget to burn their chimneys out when it rains. You must remember that many of the wells in Dahlonega are perfectly dry and it looks like we are going to have a water famine, and if a blaze was to get a good start there would be no chance to extinguish it.

The other day Mr. W. H. Reid, the Yahoola mail carrier, came to town with his horse and cart. The animal was hitched to a post on the east side of the court house. The old gentleman went in to deliver his mail and when the time came, picked the sack up on his arm and walked out and off towards home, forgetting his horse until we called him back.

Col. Cusick Dead.

Col. Cornelius C. Cusick, well known in Niagara Falls, New York, died January 2nd, at his apartments at Ferry Avenue and Sixth Street. He has been gradually failing for some time and his death was not unexpected. Complete arrangements have not yet been made for the funeral but it is announced that the interment will take place at Fort Niagara and that the funeral services will be attended with full military honors.

Col. Cusick was born in Lewiston, years ago. He was not a full blooded Tuscarora Indian as has been generally supposed. His father was James Cusick, a white man. His Indian blood came from his mother's side, but even she was not a full-blooded Indian. Col. Cusick entered the army in 1862 as a lieutenant in the 132d New York Volunteer Infantry and served with distinction throughout the Civil war. In the year 1866 he received an appointment as a lieutenant in the regular U. S. army and was assigned to the 13th Infantry, then stationed in Dakota. He was retired with the rank of captain in 1892 on account of disabilities received in the Indian war of 1894. He served in the Indian war of 1894. He served in all the Indian wars of the Northwest from 1866 to 1884 and won many words of praise for his heroic conduct.

He is survived by a wife and one son, Alton B., who have been making their home with him in this city.—Niagara Falls Gazette.

The Blue Ridge mountains seem to be full of phossoms and coons, as we understand that Mr. Casper Self said he went out one night and caught a wagon load include a dozen or more coons. It can't be a mistake for Mr. Self is a deacon of the church.

It is said that two or three members of Philippi church, in this county, got a little "boozy" Christmas. One getting so full that he lost some meat and a gun he was carrying, on his way home. The meat was found the next morning, but at last accounts the gun had not been discovered. It is believed by some that he dropped it into the river the unfortunate man had to cross.

The names and dates on all the NUGGETS are printed on the margin of the papers except those distributed at the Dahlonega post-office. So examine the date and see when your time expires. The date appearing gives up to the time you have paid.

A unanimous decision was reached by the cabinet last week that government employees must do a half an hour more work each day. The decision affects 100,000 employees and adds 1444 hours of labor annually to each employee's time.

The action of the city council of Macon in refusing to place a special tax upon the newspapers, for the reason that they are public benefactors, causes the Dublin Courier to say "this is the true way to look at the work that a newspaper does for a community. A paper gives publicity to every enterprise undertaken and is always engaged in doing something for the community and its people."

A man who reads will think, and thinking enables him to reach safe conclusions. In every avenue of life men should read some wholesome literature bearing on their respective vocations and thereby better qualify them for the work. No man can be a helpful citizen without keeping up with the affairs of his country, hence he needs his home paper, truthfully remarks the Marietta Journal.

Mining Notes.

Some of the directors of the Hand Gold Mining Co., write that they hope to be able to start up their mining operations in this county soon.

About forty hands are at work at the George dam moving its construction along as fast as possible, and in the course of a few more weeks it will be completed and ready for the placing of the machinery if the weather continues favorable.

The Summerour Mining Co., has about completed its mill, and will be running this week, and big things are expected from this mine as it is located on the soft saprolite belt that runs through this district, and good management will make it yield big returns to the stockholders.

Mr. Wm. Hobert of Chattanooga, Tenn., who has been prospecting for mica in the upper portion of this county since last July, passed through Dahlonega on his way home one day last week. Every thing seems to be favorable for him, for after getting out samples and testing the property thoroughly the gentleman purchased several lots where it was discovered in Chatsworth district.

The Ingersoll & Crison dredge boat didn't get to run but two and a half days last week but the clean up was splendid. Thirty pennyweights of nuggets were in the lot. The boat is now operating on this side of the river on the Price and Satterfield lot. When they run up as far as desired the boat will be floated back down the river so as to work the banks on the far side—it being better to work up stream than down.

The Briar Patch is moving out in good shape. Quite a crowd of men are at work cutting canal and reservoirs on this side of the river preparatory to installing another hydraulic lift. Jack Norrell has made some new openings in the hills near Ramsey and Gold Hill shafts that are good for weak eyes, and also uncovered some very rich gravel in the placer last week that is not bad, only panning from six grains to one dollar per pan.

One among the largest Western mining companies of Colorado has had a man looking over the Georgia gold fields for several weeks, and at last settled on a good piece of property near the McAfee-Lin Mining Co's and the Briar Patch property, and has eight men at work cutting tunnels and drifts, and we expect to have something good to report from them in our next week's issue, and will then tell who they are. Watch THE NUGGET for all the latest reliable mining news.

Work has been resumed on the Jumbo with a full force of hands. A drift has been started west from shaft No. 1. This is new ground. Within six feet of the beginning two small veins were cut. One free millings. The other sulphurets. Both pan to be rich. Since another vein was struck a few feet from the above mentioned. This is sulphuretted and while it has not been cut through it is believed to be the big vein which lies near to or on the hanging wall of the gold. It pans to be as rich in free gold as the other sulphuretted vein cut. It will probably be a day or two before the extent or richness of this last vein will be ascertained but present indications are that it will not only prove large but rich. It seems that a shaft, drift or tunnel in any direction on this property cuts into gold bearing quartz veins. Some rich and some good mill ore, but all carry values in gold.

The McAfee-Lin Mine continues to produce the yellow metal in paying quantities. At the end of ten days—120 hours—last week they made a clean up and got 265 pennyweights and 18 grains of gold. This is a splendid showing for a five stamp mill. A rich mine coupled with good management like that of Mr. W. H. McAfee, this mine will continue yielding big profits. Manager McAfee has too much mining experience for it to be otherwise.

This is the second test run and is far better than they were expecting, and they are now busily engaged in installing more stamps, putting in pump and a long line of sluice ways so as to flood the ore from the hills to the stamps. This fine property lies between the Briar Patch and the Fry properties, and embraces one of the finest saprolite belts in the whole country, and when once equipped, as they are determined to do, the whole mining country will be benefited by the fine demonstrations they will be able to make.

The first week of the new year with its bright sunny skies and mild weather was a great help towards the finishing of the dam on the Etowah river at the "Josephine." When Saturday night came the doors were closed down and it was only a short time until the water began to flow over the new dam, all complete with the exception of two new gates which are likely done and in position by this time. It has been a tedious job, and there has been days that were very cold, yet for all that the men have worked faithfully, fearing there would come a spell of high water. From now on all the energy will be centered on the mill and mine, so when the latter is completed there will be plenty of ore ready to work. The outlook from a miners standpoint for the "Josephine" is very flattering. There are very few mines that can compare with it in location and water privileges. And as to the gold leads she is surpassed by none. "Seeing is believing." So come and see for yourself and you will be shown the property and have the privilege of seeing some of the finest paintings taken from the many different veins that abound in the hills, valleys, branches and river of the "Josephine." Turn up the lights of the twentieth century on the mines of Lumpkin county, Georgia and keep your eye on the "Josephine mine", for she is coming to the front.

On What Ticket Will Col. W. P. Price Run?

MR. EDITOR:

I noticed in last week's NUGGET that you intimated that Col. W. P. Price might run for the legislature. How will he run? Will he make an independent race, or will he put his name before the democratic primary? Guess the Colonel will not do the latter unless his mind has changed within the past few years, for it strikes me that he was against primaries when the democrats first commenced to organize this county and the gentleman wrote a letter for publication, advising the voters to stay out of the primaries.

Mr. Editor, hunt this letter up and republish it. It might make interesting reading matter now.

AN ORGANIZED DEMOCRAT.

This is an item the farmers of Lumpkin county should read with much interest: Within the past two weeks J. A. J. Henderson of Odilla has shipped two carloads of yellow yam potatoes to Atlanta, over 1,000 bushels, for which he received $503.05, delivered on board the cars. The dispatch says, he was guaranteed 50 cents a bushel, of fifty-five pounds, instead of sixty, and the promise held out that he might receive 60 cents per bushel, 10 cents above the guaranteed price. He banked 4,000 bushels of potatoes from fourteen acres. He at first estimated the acreage at sixteen, but after deducting for ditches and other land not planted, he is satisfied the potato ground does not exceed fourteen acres. He has about 3,000 bushels yet in bank, 2,500 bushels which he will probably ship, which would net him at least $1,500, or over $100 per acre. To make this crop of over 900 bushels to the acre (it must be remembered the fattening hogs at several hundred bushels), Mr. Henderson used about 600 pounds of fertilizer to the acre.

Col. Bryson will likely be in the race for the legislature again.

THE OLD RELIABLE

Absolutely Pure
THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

Smallpox has made its appearance in Albany, Ga.

In Macon, Ga., hens are worth 50 cents a piece and eggs 40 cents per dozen.

Dispensaries in Georgia seem to be making big money. The one at Bacon Vi is sold during 1903 $17,027.00 worth of liquor, netting a profit of $20,000.

Mr. Thomas Ward says he is going to run for sheriff. Let all candidates send in their announcements so the people may know that they are running for certain.

State School Commissioner Merritt suggests that the common schools all over Georgia suspend their sessions today at the hour of Gen. Gordon's funeral—10 o'clock, and hold memorial services in honor of the dead chieftain.

Dragging Pains

2525 Keeley St., CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 5, 1902.
I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groin. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Mrs. Bush
Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

WINE-CARDUI

FARM FOR SALE.

Three miles of Dahlonega, on the Cooper Gap road, I own an upland farm of one hundred and forty acres, with forty acres in cultivation, upon which grows over eleven hundred fruit trees, six hundred and fifty of them peon and English Walnuts, from three to ten years old. Then 70 apple trees. Then two hundred black walnut trees. Over three hundred peach trees, and smaller fruit trees. A gold vein lot, 778, not prospected. Also on 848, on the east line of that lot a gold vein crosscut and has been opened and shows a very fine prospect of gold. I own half interest in this mine. Also a fine show of placer gold mine in the ravine of lots 778 and 822. Also on those two lots fine indications of deposit of kaolin and iron veins on the property. If these veins were all opened, exposed and properly developed, this property would be worth twelve hundred to two thousand dollars.

When the democrats of Lumpkin county hold their primaries they should have strictly a democratic primary and let no one vote in it except democrats—no others. The republicans do not let democrats participate in their meetings, nor even allow any of them to be present as mere spectators. Let the party line be strictly drawn this year.

Moral News.

We filled another order of 145 extra copies of the NUCLEAR this week and if you receive one you may know that it is paid for.

Bear in mind if you need your eyes fitted with a good pair of specks that Dr. L. A. Leford of Gainesville, will be here the 21st and 22nd inst.

Although last Sunday was damp and very disagreeable quite a number of people went out to the Baptist church and joined Mr. Abbott in an old time singing.

You will observe by Commissioner Seabolt's ad. elsewhere in this issue that he wants about a half dozen teachers to take charge of public schools in this county.

We understand that a certain man in this county won't rent his property to any one unless he agrees to take the NUCLEAR so he (the landlord) can get to read it for nothing.

On the 23rd of next month Judge Huff will go down to Atlanta after the money for the pensioners of this county, and will pay them off as soon as he can return, about the 25th.

Mr. B. R. Meaders left last Monday with a drove of mules and horses for Swainsboro, accompanied by his son, Frank. Mr. J. M. Brooks carried his off on Thursday before.

It is said that during a case in which Mrs. Goss was interested, last Saturday before Squire John Ricketts of Porter Springs district, that she talked very ugly and had to be called to order by the officer.

Never in the history of Dahlonoga has water been so scarce as it now is. Numbers and numbers of wells are perfectly dry, and in the country springs that never failed before are affording no water at all.

There is an ordinance to fine any one allowing their chimneys to burn out during a dry time in Dahlonoga, but it had just as well be repealed for this ordinance has never been enforced since becoming a law.

Rev. W. C. Taylor of Blue Ridge, Ga., has been chosen by the Baptists here to preach for them this year. Dahlonoga throws open her gates to this young divine, trusting that he may accomplish his good.

While Mr. B. R. Meaders was returning from Gainesville Friday night his team ran away and demolished the buggy. Mr. Meaders was just in the act of getting into the vehicle when the horses started before he got hold of the lines.

Messrs. Chas. J. Dougherty of Louisville, Ky., and J. C. Rogers of Columbus, O., members of the directors of The Crown Mountain Gold Mining Co., visited Dahlonoga last week and looked over the property, including the Gorge water power.

Dr. L. A. Leford, from Dr. Jennings' Optical Parlors, Gainesville, Ga., will be in Dahlonoga January 21st and 22nd, for the purpose of fitting glasses. No comment or introduction is necessary, as the work he did here in December is highly satisfactory. Remember the dates.

The Kentucky and Ohio gentlemen, who visited Dahlonoga last week, paid Mr. J. R. Castleberry, of Hall's Villa, quite a compliment. They stated that the fare at this hotel was the best they had struck since leaving home. This speaks well for Dahlonoga and her wide awake hotel keeper.

The calls are becoming so frequent on the county for assistance that we believe it will be to the interest of her tax payers for the ordinary to re-establish the pauper's home where the needy can go and be cared for much better than where they are scattered all over the county, and often what they receive helps to keep up some of their relatives who ought to be at work.

Aunt Linda Stephens, another one of Dahlonoga's oldest colored people, died last Friday.

A pad of 100 sheets of type writer paper, to practice on, can be had at this office for ten cents.

I have a few capes and jackets to close out at cost. Don't fail to come and get a bargain.

M. J. WILLIAMS

As early as possible we will publish a list of the newspaper bar-tenders in Dahlonoga in order that they will not get mixed up with public spirited people.

Mr. Prato of Dahlonoga, visited Gainesville last week and was present at Gen. Longstreet's funeral who said there was as large a crowd there as he ever saw in Atlanta.

When you see and know that your subscription to this paper has expired don't wait for us to notify you before you renew. It is too much trouble and expense for us to do this.

A little girl of Mr. Tolbert was badly burned in the face the other day, caused by rolling up a piece of tissue paper and lighting it like a cigarette, when it blazed up with the above results.

It is understood that Moore Bros. will likely get the contract for carrying the Gainesville and Dahlonoga mail on the lower route as they are said to be the lowest bidders. Their bid was $403.

Col. W. P. Price, president of the county school board of Lumpkin, says that he will recommend for the pupils to be allowed to use their present books till fall. But this can't be done according to law.

Business men should remember that it is a violation of a city ordinance for them to sweep paper out on the streets. Paper not only scatters stock when the wind blows but looks bad scattered about over the sidewalks and streets.

By reference to another column you will find an account of the death of Capt. C. C. Cusick, which occurred at Niagara Falls, N. Y., on the 2nd inst. A little over a year ago Capt. Cusick was located here in charge of the military department of the N. G. A. College, and many of our citizens will regret to hear of the old gentlemen's death.

In looking over some old papers City Marshal Walker finds a verbal fi. fas. that have never been settled. Some of the parties owing the taxes reside here, while others have moved away. He will proceed at once to collect them all, even if he has to send the fi. fas. to officers where the parties reside to do it.

The case of the Dahlonoga Consolidated Co. vs. John Hatfield, being a distress warrant for the rent of the Company's hotel, goes out of the hands of the Justice to the Superior Court. The Company alleges that Hatfield is due it $50 for a month's rent, and the defendant says he only owes $25 because he vacated the premises at the middle of the month.

Professor Carl W. Stead, of the chair of history and economics in the N. G. A. College, has been granted a leave of absence to take further post graduate work, which he will do at Harvard, beginning the first of February. Professor Stead will be accompanied by his wife, who is the present librarian of the college. Professor Moore, of Macon, will fill Professor Stead's place during his absence. Miss Anno Wheelchel will have charge of the library.

Last Thursday, soon after the NUCLEAR was issued, we stepped into the room adjoining the postoffice and found a perfect nest of newspaper borrowers. They had converted it into a reading room and each had one of his neighbors or relatives NUCLEARs, reading it before the owner could call for his paper. These newspaper borrowers are generally the first ones to the office. It's not on account of their inability to get one of their own. It's simply because they are too stingy to spend a dollar.

The college is in a flourishing condition.

Our citizens would like to have some cabbage.

Hix gave us a little snow and sunshine both yesterday.

Mrs. Bettie Williamson died near Annandale last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thomas took charge of the Dahlonoga Hotel yesterday.

The price of oil has advanced to 25 cents here, showing that Rockefeller has made another donation.

From the treasurers' report elsewhere it will be found that Lumpkin county is in a very healthy condition.

Just printed another lot of mortgage and other notes. By the hundred twenty and twenty-five cents.

We regret to learn that Mrs. John Simmons of this county, is very low at Mr. Miller Davis' and not expected to live.

The attendance at the public school here is very good, but still there are children in Dahlonoga idling about that ought to attend.

Prof. and Mrs. Stead will remain in Dahlonoga until the first of February. Then they will leave and be absent till the first of September.

Corn sold from the wagons here this week at 65 cents. Fodder from $1.40 to $1.75 per hundred—owing to the quality and size of the bundles.

We understand that Mr. J. J. Shed is moving back to Jackson county, and will not be in the race for clerk of the Superior court of Lumpkin county.

W. P. Price, Jr., has a full supply of all kinds of merchandise and is now ready for the new years trade with prices that are sure to please you.

Mrs. C. C. Kerr of Gainesville, is now at Dahlonoga with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Worley, where she will remain until Mr. Kerr returns from his old home in Chattanooga, Tenn.

In reply to those wishing to know as if the timber deal is going through in this county, we say that we can't say. Every few weeks a new man comes in, looks around a little and then says it is, is all we know.

The revenue officials made a raid out in Nimberville district Tuesday but went too soon. They found a place that had been selected by some blockader. Some excavations had been made and the tubs were on hand.

The marshal is now collecting the dog tax. Heretofore when collecting commenced some owners of dogs would send their out into the country for awhile in order to avoid paying on them, but the council is going to stop this by requiring a tax on all dogs remaining in the city as many as ten days at any time during the year.

On last Monday morning young Mart Wehnt, who was recently lodged in jail here charged with misdemeanor, made bond, and hadn't gotten farther than the public square on his way home before Deputy Marshal Grizzle arrested the young man and had him go back to prison on a warrant charging him with violating the Internal revenue law.

The boys tell a good one on Tax Collector Walden of this county. It is this: Some time ago Mr. Walden visited Gainesville and stepped into a store while trade was dull and all the clerks were in the rear end of the room sitting around the stove. "Walk right back," said one of them, meaning for him to come farther down the room. In an instant Mr. Walden wheeled and was out of the door, wondering why they had ordered him out of a store which he supposed was open to everybody.

Before getting very far, however, a clerk overtook him and fully explained what was meant and he returned and spent several dollars with them.

Mrs. J. L. Davis has been very sick this week.

The attendance at the N. G. A. College is larger now than it was before Christmas.

Mr. John Hatfield of Dahlonoga will locate in Gainesville about the first of next month.

Mr. J. B. Housley has gone to Alabama and will likely hang out his boot and shoe sign at Bessemer.

Bear in mind that we keep a full assortment of stationery and are ready to do your job work upon short notice.

Don't forget that T. J. Smith & Bro. still continue to give all who trade with them bargains in all kinds of goods.

J. F. Moore & Co. will keep the school books for Lumpkin county, and will have them in ready by the first of March.

Messrs. T. S. Littlefield and F. G. Jones left here yesterday to meet some parties on business in Murray, N. C., today.

Mr. Andy Ash has been awarded the contract for carrying the mail from Walnut to Cleveland daily except Sunday for $450 per annum.

By reference to another column you will find that Dr. Howard offers a good upland farm for sale in this county only three miles from Dahlonoga.

All who partook of the oyster supper up at Col. Charters' last Monday night greatly enjoyed themselves. It was the Colonel's 51st birthday.

The Dahlonoga and Dawsonville telephone line, recently constructed by Mr. R. C. Meaders, has been accepted by the Bell Telephone Co., and we hope it will soon be in talking order.

We had some rain night before last which was greatly needed, as but few of the grist mills in the county are able to grind corn to do much good on account of the extreme dry weather and scarcity of water.

There will be no college exercises today on account of the funeral of Gen. Gordon, which takes place at 10 o'clock in Atlanta. The door of the public school here will also likely be closed today in honor of this great and good man who was loved so well by the entire south.

Last Monday Deputy Marshal Grizzle and Deputy Collector Richardson went up into Chestnut district and found Allen Baker running an illicit distillery. His place was destroyed and Allen requested to come on to town and go before Com. Baker, which he did and was bound over.

Tom Armour, who in company with his brother, terrorized Banks county a few weeks ago, was killed near Boaz, Ala., last Monday by officers in pursuit. Harris Armour made his escape. Tom Armour is the slayer of Reubin L. Little of Morris, Ala., Nov. 14th. Those men were in this county a few weeks ago and may be the parties who broke into Parks & Bownes store.

It was reported here last week from McGay, Tenn., that Hon. G. D. Bruce and Mr. G. C. Wallace had a fight over there a few days ago. The first report came by grapevine telegraph and stated that Mr. Wallace had hit Mr. Bruce on the head with a stick of wood, and the last time by letter, saying that the latter was cut with a knife. Mr. Wallace is left handed and it is difficult for a man to dodge.

In reference to the new school books, State School Commissioner Merritt says that he is sure the legislature intended to work no such hardship on the schools, but the law reads that way, and it must be enforced. Any school teacher guilty of using any book but those adopted by the state board from March 1st will be guilty of a misdemeanor and will be amenable to the criminal laws of the state. The books must be changed on March 1st or the schools closed down.

Our Georgia Gold Mines.

Not long ago an old and expert gold miner declared, says the Cherokee Advance, that the day would soon come when gold seekers would flock into Georgia as they did to California in '49 and into the Klondike.

Georgia is a gold-bearing state and with the modern machinery and methods of extracting the metal from low grade refractory ore is sure to become in the future a large producer of the precious metal. State Geologist Yeates cannot now raise money enough to print and supply all the demands from abroad for his Georgia gold report. Every week prospecting parties are in Atlanta coming to north Georgia to examine some gold proposition.

And already nearly every ledge and lead in the Dahlonoga district is either owned, leased or optioned by some person or company that means to work it for gold.

Gold from Georgia mines began to be sent to the United States mint in Philadelphia in 1880. Prior to that, from 1824 to 1829, North Carolina furnished all the American gold that was used by the government. In 1829 Virginia and South Carolina each produced $2,500 worth of metal. In the five years from 1830 to 1834 Georgia mines were worked and in that time produced $1,159,000 or an average of over $280,000 per year. In 1884 Georgia was the largest gold producing state in the country, her output for that year being $415,000. Her total production up to June 30th, 1902, was $10,122,172.

These, with other statistical and technical facts in the possession of the state's geological department, should be regarded by the general assembly. If they are properly collated and distributed among the gold hunters of the nation they will surely lead to a full and speedy influx of experts and capital develop to the fullest the gold fields of upper Georgia.

A Dreary Month for Farmers.

A barren realm of withered fields,
Black woods of fallen leaves,
The palest morns that ever dawned.
The dullest of eyes.

—STODDARD.

January in the South is by far the dreariest month of the year. It is a season when but little can be done on the farm. The pleasantest hours with the farmer is when the family gathers around the cheerful fires in the sitting-room after dark, having previously looked after the comfort and the feeding of the dumb animals that should claim his greatest care and attention. In fact, the chief work of the cold and often snowy weather of January should be in looking after the stock. They should be well protected in suitable barns from the cold winds. As a matter of economy as well as benevolence, this should be done. Nothing displays a more unenviable character, one hard-hearted, ferocious and cruel, than a farmer who can witness, unmoved, his cattle exposed to the cold rains and wintry winds, and freezing weather without shelter, shivering in all the agonies of hunger and cold. It is a well-known fact that cattle properly sheltered require only half the feed to keep them in a thriving condition as when exposed to the inclemencies of winter.

The Consolidated Co. has been putting in new electric light poles where needed, so as to keep up its splendid lights.

The grand jury, at the last term, recommended that a bridge be built across the river at Jay, provided it could be done for two hundred dollars. A bridge cannot be built at that place for this money and none will likely be started.

We learn that a difficulty occurred a few days ago just across the Blue Ridge mountains between two relatives, James Smith and one of the Bryants, resulting in the latter being cut in several places to the hollow and his death is expected. Liquor was the cause of it although Smith is a deacon of the Baptist church.

My Breath.

Shortness of Breath
Is One of the Commonest Signs of Heart Disease.

Notwithstanding what many physiologists say, heart disease can be cured.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure has permanently restored to health many thousands who had found no relief in the medicines (calomel or homopathic) of regular practicing physicians.

It has proved itself unique in the history of medicine, by being so uniformly successful in curing those diseases.

Nearly always, one of the first signs of trouble is shortness of breath. Whether it comes as a result of walking or running up stairs, or of other exercises, if the heart is unable to meet this extra demand upon its pumping power—there is something wrong with it.

The very best thing you can do, is to take Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. It will go to the foundation of the trouble, and make a permanent cure by strengthening and renewing the nerves.

I know that Dr. Miles' New Heart
Cure is a great remedy. For a number of years I suffered from shortness of breath, smothering spells, and pains in my left side. For months at a time I would be unable to lie on my left side, and if I lay flat on my back would nearly suffocate. A friend advised using Dr.
Miles' New Heart Cure, which I did with good result. I began to improve at once, and after taking several bottles of the Heart Cure the pains in my side and other symptoms vanished. I am now perfectly cured. Alas, I am sure smothering spells are a thing of the past. Write to Dr. Miles, Little Rock, Ark., for a free booklet.

Pain Pills, The New Heart Remedy,

you what is wrong, and how to right it.

follows a cold, but never follows the use of

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

It stops the cough and heals the lungs and prevents a cold from settling on your lungs and resulting in Pneumonia, Pleurisy, or Consumption.

You are in no danger of serious results if FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR is taken,
as it soothes and heals the inflamed air passages and the cough disappears.

Be sure and get FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, as preparations containing opiates stop the cough temporarily by paralyzing the nerves in the throat and leave the germs of serious lung trouble and you get one cold on another because the first one was not cured properly.

Saved Her Life From Pneumonia.
"My wife had a severe attack of Pneumonia which followed a severe attack of La Grippe and I believe that FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR saved her life," writes James Coffey, of Raymond, Missouri.

Cured When Very Low With Pneumonia.
J. W. Bryan, of Lowder, Ill., writes: "My little and he quickly recovered."

The Lost Days.

I wish I had not gone
Back to the little town,
With all my wealth of memories, to
sadly fling them down;
That I had seen
The lazy little street
That idles the hillside where the town and country meet.
I wish I had not gone
To loiter and to look,
And miss the boy-time glories in the one-time singing brook—
One day it was so deep;
One day it was so wide;
One day it held cool shadows where the sunshine went to hide.
I wish I had not traced
The roses once again,
And tried to find the redness and the sweetness that they had then;
Nor gone at early morn
To find them filled with dew,
Nor searched them for the honey that the bees and I once knew.
I wish I had not walked
The little country lane
And hoped to hear the bird songs with the echoing refrain;
That I had once gone out
Upon the meadow grass,
Expecting vagrant clover scent and mint tang as I'd pass.
I wish I had not gone
Back to the little town—
Back to my castles built in Spain, to see them crumble down;
To fail to hear the songs
That rose so gaily then;
To wake—and never dream that I could be a boy again.

Wants a Late Primary.

EDITOR NUGGET:

Recently in THE NUGGET I noticed "a remedy for wet elections," suggested by the former chairman of the Executive committee, which I heartily endorse, provided it could and would be carried out. There is men that would sign the obligation and go right on treating (indirectly) as though they had never heard of such a thing. Then if they were to be called in to question about it they would almost swear that they hadn't seen a drop during the campaign. I have in mind now, a very highly esteemed friend that was defeated for the first and only time, by going into an agreement with his antagonist to run a "dry" race. The former kept his pledge, the latter didn't.

Now, there is another thing that I wish to speak about, and that is the time of holding the primary. The State Executive committee fixed the 5th of June for holding these last primaries. Now I do not see any logical reason why the county should hold theirs at that time, for several reasons. 1st. It is the busiest time with farmers that could be found. Men who make their living by the sweat of their brow has not got time to lay everything down and go very often several miles to vote. Neither do they like to be hindered from their work every day with a great number of candidates electioneering.

2nd. Every nook and corner of the county is not over-run by those aspiring to state house offices as is done by county office seekers. As a rule, the common people do not care so much about state officers as they do about county officers. Now I think that the Executive committee should consider these facts before setting the time for holding our next primary and try to accommodate the greatest number of people.

Yours truly,
A. L. JACKSON.

There is only one place in the world where the sun sets twice in the same day and that is at Leek, in England. There is a jagged mountain there and the sun sets behind it and it grows dark. An hour later the sun reappears at a gap in the side of the mountain, and it is light again until the real sunset.

Bacteria of the Soil.

As the natural fertility of the soil depends largely upon bacterial activity, it is important for farmers to understand the work of this low type of life. In most cases it is more economical to increase the bacteria in the soils and use their products, than to apply fertilizers.

The work of bacteria, not being generally understood, are usually spoken of as antagonist to the welfare of mankind. This is an error. If some species produce diseases, it does not follow that all are injurious. Some species are our friends—we could not get along without them. Twenty-five years ago none of our institutions of learning except the advanced medical colleges provided for courses of instruction on disease germs; now practically all colleges have well-equipped laboratories for the study of bacterial growths. Now the future progress of agriculture, dairying, preservation of foods, &c., depends upon a knowledge of their functions.

Bacteria formerly were thought to be animals, but now they are universally conceded to be plants. They belong to the lowest type of plant life, and are single-celled and of simple structure, being composed almost entirely of protoplasm. Lacking chlorophyll (green coloring matter), they are not able to take carbon from the air, hence, they have no woody fiber. About 1200 different varieties have been found and doubtless there are many more. They are so small that they are invisible to the naked eye. It would take 175 bacteria placed side by side to make the thickness of an ordinary book leaf.

Like other non-chlorophyllous plants they require organic food, i. e., food which has been assimilated or has been prepared for assimilation by plants or animals. A few species thrive on mineral foods. Milk is an excellent bacterial food—this is why milk sours so readily. Bacteria secrete ferments which digest their food. Vinegar is nothing more than a by-product or a bacterial excrement. The strong odors produced by putrefaction are also the product of bacterial action.

Some species have movement. This is done by the thread-like projections of their bodies, known as flagella. On account of having motion is why they were once believed to be animals instead of plants. They are found only in three forms; like a pencil, a ball and a corkscrew.

Their large amount of work is due to their rapid reproduction. They reproduce chiefly by division. One bacterium divides and forms two new ones under favorable conditions, this process is carried on indefinitely and as the division takes place in most species every half hour, the increase from one bacterium in 24 hours is enormous. Suppose one bacterium should lodge in the opening into the teat of a milk cow at the time of milking, and the time between milkings should be ten hours; then at the above rate of increase, that one bacterium would produce 1,208,576 ready to be washed into the milk at the next milking.

Another method of reproduction is by spores. Spores correspond to the seed of our higher plants. Spores are more difficult to destroy than the bacteria.

Where are they found? They are omnipresent. "They are in the air we breathe; in the crust of the earth; on trees, grass, hay, flowers, fruit, vegetables; in lakes, creeks, rivers, oceans, the water

RESOLUTIONS OF FACULTY.

Read in Chapel on Death of Gen. John B. Gordon.

WHEREAS, A great chieftain of the "Lost Cause", Gen. John B. Gordon, who was a close friend and adviser of Gen. Robert E. Lee in the last days of the struggle of the south for independence, has passed from earth away, to meet in happier realms the spirits of his comrades, gone before, and

WHEREAS, It is fitting that we, both as faculty and student body should do honor to his memory, and to present to the consideration of the young men of the country his glorious example of patriotism and courage, while doing service to his country on the field of battle as well as in the offices of governor of his state and U. S. Senator and in the capacity of private citizen,

RESOLVED, That we hereby express our heartfelt grief that so noble a patriot and so pure a man has been removed from our midst. That we hold in high appreciation his interest manifested in our college and his visits to our commencements while he held the office of governor.

That we feel sincere sympathy for his family in their bereavement.

That these resolutions be spread on the Faculty minutes.

That copies be furnished our town papers for publication.

That a copy of them be sent to his family.

Cooley is Stenographer.

Mr. E. H. Cooley, formerly of White county, has been appointed by Judge J. J. Kinsey as stenographer of the Northeastern circuit to succeed Mr. R. J. Swain, who held the position for four years. Mr. Cooley has been living in Athens for some years, although he is a member of the well known Cooley family of White county. The newly appointed Stenographer has already reported to the judge and will do his first work in Rabun county where several murder trials are to occur.—Gainesville News.

The Candidate.

Ex-Gov. Bob Taylor of Tennessee, thus pays his respects to the candidate: "Every honest man who runs for office is a candidate for trouble, for political victory turn to ashes on the lips. To me there is nothing in this world so pathetic as a candidate. He is like a mariner without a compass, drifting on the tempest tossed waves of uncertainty between the smiling cliffs of hope and the frowning cliffs of fear. He is a walking petition and a living prayer. He is a packhorse of sentiment, he is a demagogue of politics, and even if he reaches the goal of his ambition he will soon feel the beak of the vulture in his heart and the fang of the serpent in his soul."

Will Held Convention.

A State convention of the Georgia postmasters will be held in Savannah some time in February. This will be the first convention of this kind ever held in the state, and an effort will be made to form a permanent organization. There are between seven and eight hundred postmasters, in the state, and it is expected that out of this number two or three hundred will attend the convention, which will last three days.

This is good advice from an exchange: "If you have had an unfortunate experience this last year, forget it. If you have made a failure in your speech, your song, your book or your article; if you have been placed in an embarrassing position, if you have fallen out and hurt yourself by a false step, or if you have been slandered and abused, do not dwell upon it—forget it. There is not a single redeeming feature in these memories, and the presence of their ghosts will rob you of many a happy hour. There is nothing valuable in them. Wipe them out of your mind forever. Drop them. Forget them."

Ex-Congressman E. H. Driggs of Brooklyn, former congressman, was last week sentenced to pay a fine of $10,000 and to jail one day for accepting money while a congressman elect for securing a government contract.

Business men of all kinds look upon the boy lout as dead beats of the future. Go to work boys, or stay at home and help your mother. Don't loiter on the streets anyway, it is a bad habit.—Winder Democrat.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JAN. 21, 1904.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Gainesville was visited by a female pickpocket on the day of Gen. Longstreet's funeral.

It is time you were sending in your announcements. If you wish an office let the people know it.

Attorney General John C. Hart holds that married women are not barred as teachers in state schools.

Fifteen churches have been condemned and closed in New Orleans for violating the building ordinances.

A negro named Jumbo Clark, was lynched at High Springs, Fla., one night last week, for the usual offense.

The county commissioners of Hall receive $112 per head for his convicts this year—much better than usual.

The Pratt City, Ala., jail burned one night last week in which one white man and four negroes lost their lives.

They had a "wet and dry" election over at Blue Ridge the other day. The "wet" gained it by over three to one. The two bars there, paying the town one thousand dollars each, quite likely had its influence.

A republican convention of the 9th district will be held at Gainesville on the 12th of March for the purpose of electing two delegates from the district to the national presidential nominating convention at Chicago in June.

In an editorial concerning the value of the county paper the Atlanta Constitution says: "If any man in Georgia is taking the Constitution and not taking the county paper on the plea that he cannot take both, we say frankly he should cut out the Constitution and give his support to his home paper."

In the last democratic primary of this county a certain republican furnished liquor at one of the districts, and likely more, so as to help influence the voters to cast their ballots for his choice. For this reason if nothing else, republicans should be kept from participating in democratic primaries.

The primary for county officers of Lumpkin will take place at the same time of the governor and state house officers, let it be soon or late. It would give the farmers a better chance if the primary was held along in August, but whether the state authorities will have an eye to this or not, we do not know.

Judge Guber and his copartners have bought a $16,000 farm at Americus and are putting out a million peach trees on it. Judge Guber is the largest individual peach grower in Georgia and will soon be pulling fruit from more than three hundred thousand trees. The Americus orchard is expected to ripen fruit three weeks before those in North Georgia.—Ellijay Courier.

In the case of the Chestatee Pyrites Co. vs. the Cavenders Gold Mining Co., for injunction that was carried up to the Supreme Court from Lumpkin Superior Court, the following is the decision: A corporation chartered under the laws of another state cannot exercise the right of eminent domain in this state without the consent of the legislature expressly given. Sections 650-657 of the political code, giving to private mining companies the right of eminent domain, even if constitutional, apply only to corporations chartered within the state. Under the facts of the present case, the remedy at law was not as complete as the one in equity. Judgment reversed. W. A. Charters and H. H. Perry for plaintiff. H. H. Dean, J. W. H. Underwood and R. H. Baker for defendant.

Mining Notes.

The mining outlook for 1904 in Lumpkin county is very bright.

The celebrated Calhoun still continues turning out her share of the yellow metal.

Operations down at the Barlow still continue under the supervision of Mr. Tregent, making money.

It is reported here that stone coal has been struck over in Union county near Gaddistown, by Mr. Martin Gooch.

Do you wish all the reliable mining news of this section? If so send a dollar and get this paper for twelve months.

During the past year some made money mining while others lost. Just the same way with merchants and all other business men.

The McAfee-Lin gold mine gets better. Another five days run on their little five stamp mill turned out 265 pennyweights of pure gold.

The McAfee-Lin Mining Co. is moving along like clock work enlarging its plant, erecting pump and expects to be able to run again in the near future.

The mines in this county are paying well where the management is good. Mining is like all other business, it will not pay unless properly managed.

The Lockhart mine is still being profitably worked. Mr. J. M. McDonald and his son Tom are operating it. The vein gave better results last week than usual.

The party prospecting near the Briar Patch mentioned last week, for some good reasons known to themselves, do not desire for their names to be given for the present.

Mr. T. C. Parker of Macon, Ga., who is interested in the Summer mine, has been up for several days helping to get the mill started, and from the appearance of everything they are going a head in good shape.

Mr. W. I. Rush of Kansas City, Mo., and Dr. B. L. Paine of Lincoln, Neb., are on their way to the Briar Patch Mine with a party of Western miners to look over this property, and what we know of it they will be well pleased.

None of the mines in this county are able to run on full time yet for want of water. No rain has fallen in Lumpkin of any consequence for many months. Being so dry here at this season of the year was never known before, even by our oldest citizens.

We understand that Mr. Arnold of the Betz, is expected here, with the intention it is supposed, to begin work at this mine again. The Betz is the deepest mine in this county. The vein in a shaft several hundred feet deep, is as good and large as it was when first discovered, if not better.

Prof. Jones, assistant state geologist, has been up getting samples of gold ores to be put on exhibition at the World's Fair in St. Louis. He visited a number of the mines and got enough samples to have a fine show. This will be a big benefit to this country and we are glad to see the movement on foot.

The Briar Patch has about completed the canal and reservoir on this side of the river and expects to have another lift working this week. They are working quite a force of men now and will add a larger number in a few days, as the company intends to complete the Ball Play Creek canal as soon as possible, and make such other improvements as are necessary to fully equip the old Briar Patch Mine.

All who have visited the Jumbo, being many, speak well of it. It couldn't be otherwise for the good gold bearing veins are there to show for themselves. Not long ago Mr. Miller, general manager of the Briar Patch mine, and who is well acquainted with the Barlow mine, went up to look at the Jumbo, and told us that it was on the Barlow lead. Judge Huff, the present ordinary of this county, who worked the Barlow for years, also says the same and tells us that the only difference is the veins are larger up at the Jumbo than they are down at the Barlow. Every body acquainted with the latter knows what this means—that it is one of the highest and best mines in Georgia.

All the hands on the Gorge dam have been dropped off except about twenty. President Warner has asked for enough money to complete it, but whether the stockholders of Crown Mountain will respond or not we are not able to tell as there seems to be some dissatisfaction about the management of the mine. You may take the best mine in the world and if it is not properly managed it will always be this way. This company started out with a general manager of many years of practical experience in mining, who could have made it money even had he been allowed to exercise his knowledge. It has a board of directors but it doesn't seem to have much power. The president from every appearance runs things his way.

The Etowah Gold Mining and Milling Co. of Auraria, Ga., has been doing good work at the "Josephine Mine", and everything is moving along as fast as possible. Owing to the delay in getting lumber the mill will not start up as soon as it was expected to do. Everything is being done to push along the work in repairing the mill and getting things in shape so as to begin dropping the stamps. A few days ago the directors held a meeting in Gainesville to transact some business for the company. Ex-Gov. Allen D. Candler, president, Z. T. Castleberry, president of First National Bank of Gainesville, Ga., General Manager H. D. Jaquish, Auraria, Ga., were the three directors present. J. C. Frazee, president of the Mining and Development Co., 41 Wall Street, New York, was also present. Everything was arranged satisfactory. The company has the able service of Col. H. H. Perry as consulting attorney who was present at the last meeting. This company is to be congratulated in having such men at its head as are mentioned in this article. These men are known for their sterling qualities and perseverance and who know no such word as fail.

The state treasurer's report shows that there was a balance of more than $1,000,000 on hand December 31, 1903.

C. H. Jones Successful.

After a great deal of effort and correspondence Dr. C. H. Jones, the popular druggist, has succeeded in getting the Dr. Howard Co. to make a special half-price introductory offer on the regular fifty cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

This medicine is a recent discovery for the cure of all diseases of the stomach and bowels. It not only gives quick relief, but it makes permanent cures.

Dr. Howard's specific has been so remarkably successful in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all liver troubles that Dr. Jones is willing to return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

The old-fashioned idea of dosing with mineral waters, cathartic pills or harsh purgatives will soon be a thing of the past. The best physicians are prescribing Dr. Howard's specific because it really gives the desired results and on account of the small and pleasant dose that is needed.

Headaches, coated tongue, dizziness, gas on stomach, specks before the eyes, constipation, and all forms of liver and stomach trouble are soon cured by this scientific medicine.

So great is the demand for this specific that Dr. Jones has been able to secure only a limited supply, and every one who is troubled with dyspepsia, constipation or liver trouble should call upon Dr. Jones at once, or send 25 cents, and get sixty doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half-price offer, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

INDIGESTION

FARM FOR SALE.
Three miles north of Dahlonega, on Cooper Gap road, I own an upland farm of one hundred and forty acres, with forty acres in cultivation, upon which grows over eleven hundred fruit trees, six hundred and fifty of them peach and English walnuts, from three to ten years old. Then 70 apple trees. Then two hundred black walnut trees. Over three hundred peach trees, and smaller fruit trees. A gold vein lot, 775 not prospected. Also on 840, on the east line of that lot a gold vein crosses and has been opened, and shows a fine prospect of gold. I own half interest in this mine. Also a fine show of placer gold mine in the ravines of lots 778 and 823. Also on those two lots fine indications of deposit of kaolin and iron veins on the property. If these veins were all opened, exposed and properly developed, this property would be worth twelve hundred to two thousand dollars.

Local News.

Col. W. A. Charters is attending Hall Superior Court this week.

A farmer residing at Gaddistown, Union county, brought a load of hay across the Blue Ridge last week to Dahlonega for sale.

After Miss Anno Worley accepted assistant teachers place in the public school here the lady declined, and Miss Cora Byers has taken the position.

Prof. Gilbert also suspended the public school here on Thursday at 10 o'clock so the pupils could be present during the Gordon memorial exercises at the college.

Marriage licenses were issued last week for Mr. Moridan Pruitt and Miss Mary Reese, daughter of Mr. John W. Reese of this county, and we suppose the wedding has occurred by this time.

It is said that a man by the name of McDonald residing in Jackson county, is the lowest bidder on the Dahlonega and Gainesville mail line—upper route. We suppose he proposes to move at either end or along the line. If not he cannot carry it.

Little Jim (Griffin) was badly burned on the face one day last week down at the Hand mill with an electric wire while assisting his father. He fell from a platform about 6 feet high but fortunately struck on his feet. One side of his face is badly scorched.

Preacher West was unable to reach Gaddistown with the mail last Thursday on account of the ice and snow on the mountain, although teamsters made it all right to and from this county with their wagons. It's a little strange that they can go where a preacher can't.

The finest home made syrup we ever tasted was made by Mr. J. B. Clements of this county last year. The cane was a new variety. The syrup is well made and has no strong taste at all, and the merchants pay him 40 cents per gallon for it. Ten cents more per gallon than any other.

Dr. L. A. Ledford, from Dr. Jennings' Optical Parlors, Gainesville, Ga., will be in Dahlonega today and tomorrow for the purpose of fitting glasses. No comment or introduction is necessary, as the work he did here in December is highly satisfactory. Remember the dates.

The dwelling, kitchen and smoke house of Mr. Davis were destroyed by fire in this county one night last week, together with a good many household goods. The fire originated in the kitchen. A petition was afterwards carried around as usual in such cases and the citizens of Dahlonega responded in a prompt manner for the relief of the distressed family.

We went to the trouble of looking up some of the past grand jury precommitments while the county owned the paupers farm the other day and found that it was run much cheaper than under the present system. Often there was but one or two inmates on the farm, which was run by a man for $100 per annum and some times for less, the expenses running from three to four hundred dollars only and now the cost of keeping up the paupers amount to more than $500. When the county had a farm no one was given aid unless they went to it.

Col. Price says we misunderstood him last week about recommending that the old school books be used in this county until fall. He says he didn't mean that. But from what we understand it may be fall or later until the new books can be gotten, as it is said that the company having the contract to supply them for the state claims that it has a year from the time the governor signs it to furnish them. The law says that it must be done by the first of March but we doubt whether any company can get out as many books as will be needed in the schools of Georgia in less than two months.

Last Sunday was a beautiful warm, sunshiny day, almost like spring.

Mr. W. H. Satterfield killed a porker the other day weighing 4-14 pounds.

Mr. G. H. McGuire purchased a fiddle the other day said to be 105 years old.

Mr. Tom Sargent of this county, who went on a visit to California a short time ago, has returned.

Mr. Gordon and Charlie Rice left last Monday for Alabama, where they go to work.

Mr. John Jackson, who went out to Beaver Ridge a short time ago, returned last week.

Cabbage retailed here last week for two cents per pound, snakes or no snakes.

You can always tell a public spirited, enterprising person. They subscribe and pay for their county paper.

On last Thursday Mr. J. E. Dangler was wedded to Miss Leah Williams up at Two Run, at the residence of Capt. F. M. Williams in this county.

Five persons, who had joined the Baptist church at this place some time ago, were baptized in the creek down at Wimp's mill last Sunday afternoon.

After an absence of several weeks down in Dawson county and Atlanta, Mrs. Maud McGuire returned to her home in Dahlonega this week, very much delighted with her visit.

Mr. T. S. Waters of Dahlonega, informs us that he has accepted a position in the hardware store of Davidson & Prewitt, Gainesville, Ga., and in a short time will move his family to that place.

The news reached here last Sunday that two cars containing the mules of B. R. Meaders & Sons were wrecked on Saturday, enroute to Augusta, Ga. Later on it was learned that the stock belonged to some one else and that Meaders' were all right.

Some of the weekly press of Georgia may have larger papers than The NUGGET but a number of them will be found a good deal of plate matter. The NUGGET is entirely home print, all wool and a yard wide. Send for it and read it year and you are sure to be pleased.

Many of our subscribers are renewing their subscriptions right along. They don't even stop for the Sabbath. We received $2.50 last Sunday, and one of these days we are going to give it to some good preacher. Not one like we heard of the other day, who went around town and assisted a certain blockader in selling his liquor. We don't believe it is right for preachers to do a thing of this kind.

People from all parts of the country, both far and near, like to read THE NUGGET. Two gentlemen in renewing their subscriptions last Saturday concluded their letters as follows: Mr. Dave Hyden of Atlanta, Ga., says: "Keep THE NUGGET coming, for it is the only way for me to know just how my old home town and friends are getting along." And Mr. James Saunders of Petrolia, Canada, Ont., concludes his letter this way: "Be sure and send THE NUGGET regular to the same address. I do not want to be without it."

The killing of one of the Armour brothers in Alabama gives all citizens, where they roamed, a good deal of relief. Not long ago they were in about a half mile of Dahlonega and ate breakfast out at Uncle Mart Harshaw's, an old negro man who lives between Dahlonega and the Hand mill. The night before they stayed awhile with Mr. Griffin at the electric plant, and both of them were never caught napping at the same time. One watched while the other nodded. Now that one has been killed the other will have no one to watch while he sleeps and sooner or later he will either be captured or killed.

When you miss your NUGGET let us hear from you.

There is some complaint about packages coming through the mail being often broken open by some one full of curiosity.

Mr. Marion Gurley of Gaddistown, boarded the stage here for Gainesville last Friday who said he was aiming to go West.

The revenue officers visited the district of Chastate twice last week. They found the place the second time but the operator was absent.

If you wish THE NUGGET, it's a very easy matter to send a money order for it. This is cheaper than waiting till you get a chance to come to town.

Last Sunday we were shown an almanac by Mr. Moses Moore of this county, published in 1850, called the Family Christian Almanac. It has 58 pages and contains much valuable information. He found it while looking over some of his grand father's things.

"Shotgun" Walker is building him a large house. He has thirty-two in family and wants to shelter them and all his friends who go to see him, should he take a notion to run for county treasurer, which he thinks of doing now.

At the last term of Lumpkin Superior court the grand jury recommended that a bridge be built across the river out at Jay provided it could be done for two hundred dollars but the ordinary cannot find any one who is willing to construct it for this amount and there will be no bridge.

For two weeks, about all the talk was the fight said to be between Hon. G. D. Bruce and Mr. J. C. Wallace, over at McCays, Tenn. It all turns out to be a false alarm as will be seen by a communication elsewhere. It's strange that such reports will get started without any foundation whatever.

Very often there is more matter going across the Blue Ridge by the Gaddistown mail than one horse can carry. Last Monday morning little George Sissum started out riding one horse and leading another, with as much mail packed on the animals as they could carry, resembling some one crossing the desert. Some of the postmasters over there will sit down and write to as many publishers of papers as they can think of for sample copies. This is the way they secure their reading matter and what causes so much mail going over there.

Mr. D. O. Johnson, formerly of New Bridge, Ga., has moved to Dahlonega and opened a complete stock of goods in the building on the corner opposite Mr. H. D. Gurley, and asks the citizens of Dahlonega and Lumpkin county for a share of their patronage. He has fixed the prices of his goods so it will be to your interest to trade with him. The highest market price paid for country produce. When visiting Mr. Johnson's store you will be treated so clever and nice that you are sure to go again. The business is not new to him which enables the gentleman to know how and what to buy to suit his customers. Give him a call and be convinced of these facts.

The long oath that all the tax payers have to take when returning their property, has no effect on some people. In looking over the tax digest the other day this could be plainly seen. We noticed one fellow particularly. He is supposed to be a good religious man but this is the way he gave in his taxes under oath: Eighteen acres of farming land $15, household goods $3, 2 steers and a cow and calf $10, two-horse wagon $1, Total $29. This is a pretty cheap outfit for a well to do farmer, isn't it? A toy wagon for children to play with, costs more than this, yet he hauls wood to town with these steers, on this dollar wagon and charges 50 cents a load. The tax receiver could remedy this if he had the nerve to do it.

Mr. Will Higgins left yesterday for Alabama.

J. F. Moore & Co., by advertising their Lumpkin county maps in The NUGGET, are receiving orders for them by parties in the north.

Mr. J. B. Housley is back from Alabama and has hung out his boot and shoe sign at the stand formerly occupied by Mrs. Marlow.

Profs. Vickery, Boyd, Davis and Rev. Mr. Turner went up near the foot of Cedar Mountain last Monday on a rabbit hunt and had a nice time.

Two citizens of Hightower district, broke the Sabbath on the 17th, but didn't mean to do it. Mat Stullings took his gun and some corn and hunted his hogs all day, and Mrs. Tilda Marlow put in the day knitting. Both thought it was Saturday.

It was said that young Mart Wehoub of this county, who was recently bound over for working in an illicit distillery, and carried to Atlanta the other day, worked in this concern for two men at 20 cents a day. He didn't even get what he could drink—only smell.

At B. R. Meaders & Sons' place you will find cheap underwear and fine shoes. Ladies shoes from 99 cents to $2.50. Usual price twenty-five to fifty cents more. You often hunt good shoes for children. They have them. They cost a little more but will last twice as long. Mens shoes at one-fourth less than regular price. They have a nice China dinner set, 102 pieces, that was a special order but got lost on the railroad for six weeks, worth $20, but they offer it for $15.

Rev. J. E. Blackburn will preach at the Baptist church next Sunday night. After that, if the weather is favorable, he will begin a series of meetings again at private houses. By adopting this plan, Mr. Blackburn has gained a number of members and accomplished much good. This divine is a poor man and cannot continue this long unless he gets some help. He receives no salary. Now let all well wishers of the success of churches give him some aid. We will for one. Who will be the next?

There has been trouble in the camps among the colored sisters and a brother out on "Pea Ridge" and the result is, Fred Trammell, Arthur Singleton, Ida Stevens and Luella Myers were fined two dollars and cost each last Tuesday for their actions. On Sunday night Ida and Luella had their racket, the former having a little pistol she wished to fire at her antagonist. Will Anderson was arrested, charged with presenting the lover of his heart with this weapon, but the evidence was too much in favor of this negro for him to be convicted. The other woman, Fred Trammell, called Arthur Singleton some ugly names on Monday and not being willing to use any bad words, on account of his membership in the church, Arthur threw a rock at the woman and didn't even hit her big mouth.

We learn that Mr. Buddy Cain, residing in the upper portion of this county, got terribly frightened last Friday night. Hearing something, he got up and went out on the porch. At first he thought it was Mrs. J. A. Tate, who resides near by, hallooing. He answered and she replied that nothing was wanted. By this time another loud shrill noise was heard, which convinced him that it was the panther that was heard so much in the neighborhood last year. It kept on hallooing, and Mr. Cain went back into the house till morning. As soon as it was light enough to see, he, together with his son Luther, and Jesse Tate, got their guns and started out in search of the panther. The night previous, some of the boys had turned the water on "Long" John Anderson's overshoot wheel at his saw mill. The bearing got hot by running without oil, and when a man came along and turned the water off the next morning the panther was heard no more.

Misrepresenting the Southern Gold Mines.

A man up at Clarkesville, Ga., calling himself A. M. Graham, not many weeks ago wrote an article to the Industrial Record of New York, concerning the Southern gold mines. We have not read the article but judge from a letter received from a gentleman in St. Louis a few days ago, that he gave our gold mines the black eye, or at least tried to do so. This caused a gentleman to write to him about a certain gold mine in this county, and although he has never been here and knows nothing about it, said everything he could against the mine, and even stated that he "didn't believe the president of the company knew that his name was being used," notwithstanding the fact he had written the president a letter before that, about the mine, which was read at a meeting of the directors and a scorching reply made to him by the president. Believing him to be a blackmailer we wrote a letter of enquiry to a friend of ours at Clarkesville about Graham (being the way he spells his name to his letters) without even intimating what he had said or written, or what our object was and this is our friend's reply:

CLARKESVILLE, GA., Jan 16, 1904.
MR. W. B. TOWNSEND,
DAHLONEGA, GA.,

DEAR SIR: A party by the name of Graham has been here six or eight weeks. Said he came from Toms county here. Says he is a mining man. About all he knows is to talk. Don't think he amounts to much. Talks too much. A lady came here to meet him from Denver, Col. a month or six weeks ago. She is his wife. Graham don't seem to have much money.

Adoration.

On Friday the 15th, as soon as it was known that Georgia should once more reverence a dead chief, the N. G. A. College and her faculty responded with a respect that was worthy of her name. At 10 o'clock the audience assembled in the chapel and voiced its sympathy by songs of praise. Then Mr. Cochran of the Decora society, came forth with a splendid little speech. J. D. Gartatawksy responded with a well prepared eulogy from the Phi Mu. The battalion formed and marched to the public square repeating the cadence of the sixties when "Dixie" stirred a Saxons soul on for a cause that was to die.

Georgia's hero is dead!

Shall we mourn?

No! Leaders of men have lived and died. Their time is spent. Their course is run. They lived only to fill their mission, and when their earthly services are complete they must pass away.

Shall we praise?

Yes! The highest mission of man is help to man, and the greatest reward is praise. So, as the ages pass on let us not darken our pathway by unnecessary sorrows of things that shall be done, O Time! thou merciless and ceaseless course! Why leave me by the wayside? Yet, should my prayers be answered thy crystal planets would cease to revolve and the sun would cease to shine!

Wallace and Bruce Had No Difficulty.

McCAYS, TENN.,
Jan. 16, 1904.

ED. NUGGET:

I see in this week's paper that Bruce and myself have been fighting over here. I was very much surprised to see it, as it was the first that I had heard of such a thing. Will, wish you would brand the report as an infamous lie and I will certainly do likewise with the starter of it as a liar from the stump. I haven't got a better friend on earth than Lone Bruce. We never had a cross word in life. We were right here together every day while he was at this place and never had a hard word of any kind. Can't see how or where it started.

Respectfully,
G. C. WALLACE.

Stay on the Farm.

For years and years the newspapers of the South, and in Virginia especially, have been advising the young men to remain on the farm in preference to seeking a fortune in the cities, but the advice has not been heeded, and daily the farm is being neglected for a small salary in some city. A few nights ago, while waiting for a train in a nearby city, we engaged in conversation with a young man who was leaving a good home in one of the south-side counties to go to Baltimore to accept a position with the street car company in that place as a conductor. He had been offered $54 per month, and jumped at it without taking into consideration the fact that it will cost him nearly half that amount to keep him a month, besides incidental expenses that can never be escaped in a city. He was leaving a comfortable home, with plenty to eat, pure water to drink and pure air to breathe, for what most young men regard as a fine opening when they can command as much as $50 a month. This young man will have to work twelve hours each day, Sunday included, whereas at home he would have Sunday as a day of rest. Besides, the prices on farm products are now so high that a young man can remain on the farm and by close attention to business have more at the end of the year than the average city position will net him. He will also have what money cannot buy—good health. Young men, stay on the farm.—Clifton Forge Review.

CONDITIONS FOR BACTERIAL GROWTH.

1. MOISTURE.—Moisture is necessary for all plant life. When we dry fruits, vegetables, meat, &c., to preserve them, we only render the conditions unfavorable for bacterial growth and thereby prevent decay. Dried eggs are now placed on sale for food. Seeds are now preserved so long as moisture is kept from them.

2. TEMPERATURE.—Some species thrive almost at the freezing point, while some soil bacteria grow almost at the boiling point. In general, the temperature range is very wide and for this reason bacteria are widely distributed. They are destroyed by boiling, but freezing only checks their action and when the temperature is raised, growth begins again. Cold storage is used to stop bacterial growth.

Milk placed in spring or well water remains sweet for several hours, because the cooling lowers the temperature of the bacteria that sour it. In the canning of fruit, if all the bacteria are destroyed by heating, and then the jars are hermetically sealed to keep out the bacteria, the fruit cannot sour.

3. ABSENCE OF SUNLIGHT.—Two hours exposure to sunlight will destroy most species. Ordinary daylight is not very injurious.

WHAT BACTERIA DO.

Bacteria disintegrate the dead bodies of plants and animals and the elements of which these bodies are composed are restored to the air and to the soil to be used in the construction of new forms of life. This renders the life cycle complete. "All that has lived must die, and all that is dead must be disintegrated—the elements which are the substratum of life must enter into new cycles of life." Without bacteria the world would be covered with mummies of animals and plants and the food elements would in time become exhausted, and life would become extinct.

The general function of bacteria is destructive—but there is a group that are constructive, i. e., instead of breaking down compounds, they construct new ones. For instance, the bacteria that work upon the roots of clover, lucern, peas, &c., are constructive—they take the nitrogen from the air and unite it with oxygen and other elements and form nitrates which are soluble and can be readily used by plants.

The greatest number of bacteria are found a little below the surface of the soil. Houson found them in the soil as follows:

BACTERIA PER GRAM.

At the surface.....1,680,000
At a depth of two feet.....900,000
At a depth of four feet.....25,000
At a depth of six feet.....410

A Curious Ruling.

A man was arrested in San Francisco the other day for cruelty to animals in offering live lizards for sale. Just where the cruelty came in was not satisfactorily explained. I am puzzled to know how it is more cruel to sell lizards than to sell dogs, cats or horses, but the amusing feature of the case was the reason given by a police judge for dismissing the case. He said that testimony failed to establish the fact that a lizard was an animal. —San Francisco Town Talk.

Under the decision of Judge J. H. Lumpkin, a laborer can't waive exemption from garnishment in Georgia.

Spotting the Married Man.

"There's a married man," said a man who stood in front of a department store in Brooklyn, on Saturday night. The one to whom he pointed was standing on the corner.

"How do you know?" the man with the detective instinct was asked.

"Oh, it's easy to pick them," he replied. "There's another, and there's another." He pointed to two others who were sauntering back and forth, one young, the second gray-haired and smoking a cigar. "Now, that fellow there, with the baby buggy, is easy," the speaker continued. "You can't make any mistake about him. Their wives are in the store, spending the week's allowance and the men are waiting for them. You know men hate a department store."

"There! Wasn't I right?" he asked as a woman came out of the store and walked away with one of the men. After a time another woman appeared and was joined by one of the sauntering men. Then out came the woman who belonged to the baby buggy, and after depositing an armful of small packages at the feet of the baby that party moved on.

"How did you come to notice this?" the student of human nature was asked.

"I learned it by experience," was his answer.

Just then he lifted his hat to a woman who came out of the store. She slipped her hand under his arm and they walked away together. —New York Press.

The Lion's Roar.

Major Austin, writing of his travels in central Africa says: The grandest, the most awe inspiring, the most tremendous voice on earth issues from the throat of that king of beasts, the lion. It is rather difficult to describe that mighty roar bursting out into the silence of the night and seeming to shake the very ground beneath one. It makes one feel petty, insignificant, of no account, when his majesty voices his satisfaction at having dined well on some poor unsuspecting antelope which has allowed itself to fall under the clutches of that ponderous paw. The men huddled together; a deadly stillness follows; there is a catch in one's breath, and it is with a sense of relief a whisper, perhaps, of "Simba shiba" (the lion is satisfied) arises, and constation gradually resumes its flow.

A merchant recently said to the editor of Ad-Art that he was afraid to stay out an issue of his local paper because that might be just the date when some people could be induced to buy, and the absence of the announcement from that one issue might be just the thing which would cause the wait-while habit. The every week advertising may not convince all the people, but it is just what makes the general impression and that gives the store the advantage over the other man who is waiting. —Ad-Art.

That diphtheria may live in packed clothing almost indefinitely is shown by an incident which occurred in an Ohio village. A child died of diphtheria and its mother packed its dresses and toys in a chest. The mother died fifteen years afterward, and her daughter, who opened and handled the contents of the chest, was duly taken ill of diphtheria, although there had recently been no cases in the village.

A Tip to Young Wives.

The wife who tries to keep alive her husband's love for his mother, not only in his heart, but in outward observance as well, in the end serves her own interest better than theirs. The boy who loves his mother and sisters, and who is always thoughtful and tender with them, will be a good husband nine times out of ten. The love of the many comes with the love of one, and just as truly as he loves his sweetheart better because of his mother and sisters, he may love them better because of her.

The poor, heart-hungry mother who stands by with brimming eyes, fearful that the joy of her life may be taken from her, will be content with a little if she may but keep it for her own. It is only a little while, at the longest, for the end of the journey is soon, but sunset and afterglow would have some of the rapture of dawn if her son's wife opened the door of her thoughtless young heart and said, with true sincerity and wells of tenderness, "Mother—come!" Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Question for Question.

A young Japanese compositor employed on a Japanese journal was riding down town in a city hall train the other morning. He was engrossed in his morning paper and paid little attention to the other passengers. But a fresh looking young man who sat next to him and who had been eyeing him all along suddenly said:

"What sort of a 'nese' are you, anyway—a Chinese or a Japanese?"

The little Jap was not caught napping. Quick as a wink he replied:

"What sort of a 'key' are you, anyway—a monkey, a donkey or a Yankee?"

The fresh young man had no more to say and left the train quicker when City Hall station was reached. —New York Mail Express.

The Timid Advertiser.

Enthusiasm is the life of trade—not the irrational ebullitions coming from those who imagine they know it all, but an enthusiasm born of confidence ability to make goods move. The timid advertiser never succeeds, the tentative advertiser sometimes, but the enthusiastic advertiser always wins the goal. It is the knowledge of men and things that makes the successful advertiser. Advertising requires some money and unlimited but rightly directed enthusiasm. —Iowa Trade Journal.

Pat and the Railway Company.

A poor man, a son of Erin, who after a long and hard pull had managed to acquire the ownership of a small farm of seventy acres in a western state of poor and indifferent quality of soil and contour, was recently approached by the right of way agent of a railroad company which wished to split his little farm in two with a new line of road. Pat begged and protested; did not want to sell the right of way; wanted to have them go around his place. Being unable to buy the right of way, the land was condemned by process of law, and Pat had to take $1,500 and see his farm split in two pieces. Curiously enough, when the road was built it involved a deep cut through Pat's land when a splendid quarry of stone was unearthed, the existence of which Pat never dreamed of, and he was able to make a long time lease of the quarry to a stone company at the handsome rent of $1,500 per year. Thus does Dame Fortune sometime convert our seeming misfortunes into blessings.

No Fun in Being a Bridesmaid.

Nowadays brides think they are lucky in getting the bridesmaids they wish. In fact, the average girl "in the whirl" has come to dislike the role of attendant. She must buy her own gown and hat, of course, and she must not haggle over the question of cost. For instance, at the Fanshawe-White wedding the hats cost more than $110 each. Valuable ostrich plumes were used and also bands of sable. The Goelct-Roxburgh turbans were less expensive, although they, too, were trimmed with Russian sable. Still, many a girl clinches her social position by appearing at a "smart" wedding. —New York Post.

Town's Boon Hints.

Never let an opportunity pass to praise your town and extol its advantages.

The community with the best roads is very likely to be the best community.

More disease is removed from a town by proper cleaning than can be cured by all the doctors in the place.

The town or city which keeps its advantages persistently before the outside world through reliable newspapers is the place which shows the greatest increase in population and material wealth.

Local News.

The newly elected Baptist preacher will be here the 3rd day of next month.

Frank Head, a son of Mr. Col quit Head, returned home from Atlanta a few days ago with malarial fever.

There are only two prisoners in jail now. The little boy, Henderson, charged with assault with intent to murder, and a negro lad, named Lige Stamper, accused of stealing a watch.

Our farmers ought to be prospering now, as they almost get their own prices for their produce. A few years ago eggs only brought ten cents a dozen. Now three dozen will get a 25 pound sack of flour.

Are you a Produce Buyer, Seller or Consignee? We guarantee prompt, honest liberal returns. Johnson & Dabney, Wholesale Grocers, Importers and Commission Merchants. 39 S. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga.

By a notice elsewhere from W. P. Price, Sr., president of the board of education of Lumpkin county, you will see the applicants for the office of county commissioner of Lumpkin will be examined on the 6th of February.

We are glad to hear of our young friend, Mr. A. W. Cain, who is at Grapeland, Texas, prospering. He is principal of a high school and makes four dollars per day, the same as a Georgia legislator gets for either representing or misrepresenting the people.

Some time ago the post-office department advertised for bids for a daily mail to be carried from Dahlonega to Stay, by Wild, in this county. Bids were sent in, but they were rejected for some cause. Last week notice were sent here again, asking for bids on this proposed route, and if you wish to work faithfully for Uncle Sam, now is your chance.

Deputy Marshal Grizzle went out into the country the other day to make a call at an illicit distillery that had been reported to him as being in operation near Mr. Joe Ash, who resides in this county. The concern was not running, but in making a search the officer found the still in Mr. Ash's house, and the informer will get ten dollars, the sum Uncle Sam allows for such information.

Judge Kimsey last week appointed the registrars for this county. They should have been appointed last January and the Judge fixed their times to begin then and expire the first of January, 1905. Messrs. M. J. Williams of Dahlonega, and J. T. Miller of Anuraria, were re-appointed, and the new one is Mr. C. W. Satterfield of Dahlonega. The latter is a republican and the other two are democrats, which complies with the law.

Dr. Loford of Gainesville, visited our office last week while in Dahlonega fitting many of our citizens with suitable eye glasses. The Doctor is originally from White county but has been a citizen of Gainesville for about fourteen years. He is not only a first class "eye carpenter" but is a practical printer and is at home when he gets into an office of this kind. He is associated with Dr. Jennings of Gainesville, and one or the other will make our towns a visit every now and then to look after the interest of weak eyed people.

W. B. Woodward of the Signal, after taking on a few drinks of "popskull" last Saturday night, got on the war path and wanted to whip Abe Anderson, an inoffensive negro man who was in Jap Williams' store, because he asked for his Signal to be discontinued. Billie reared and snorted, and picked up the nail pullers and tried to make it appear that he was going to strike the negro. We have often heard of the press being muzzled, but we never heard of an editor trying to muzzle a negro man with a pair of nail pullers before. He was fined $5.00—$9.40 all told.

The officers got another still up in Yahola yesterday.

The many friends of Mrs. B. P. Gailhard are glad to see her able to be out, after several months sickness.

Gen. Warner came up last Saturday and made the hands at the George dam feel happy by bringing them their money for services already rendered.

Mr. Bryman of Ohio, who is largely interested in the gold mines here, not only had the misfortune to get his dredge boat sunk in the north recently, but three men were drowned. The boat was worth $80,000.

A lot of wild geese passed over the other day. It used to be said that when wild geese passed over in the early part of the year there would be no more cold weather. If this be a sure sign this year, Hix is badly mistaken, for he gives us much cold weather yet and it snow early in the spring.

Last Sunday the Baptist colored people re-elected Neisler, their same old pastor, to preach for them again this year. They only agreed to raise him $4.00 for each trip. The preacher lives at Haysville, N. C., and will have to ride about sixty miles, once a month, to get that. This is one man who will certainly earn his money.

I appreciate the gift of two and one-half dollars received from editor of Nugget a few days ago, hoping that the Lord will reward him manifold in this life and eternal life in the world to come. Mr. Townsend is a man who has always been a friend to me in time of need, and I cannot find words to express thanks to him. (Rev.) J. E. BLACKBURN.

Our new list of subscribers to THE NEGRO for January, 1904, is 32. On last Friday afternoon Miss Beckie Caldwell was killed in Lumpkin county, at the residence of Mr. A. J. Dockery, on the side of Blood Mountain, by his little daughter, Miss Sarah Ann. It was an accident. The deceased was a daughter of the widow of "Doc" Caldwell, who died some seven or eight years ago. The young lady lived with her mother about a mile from Mr. Dockery and had gone over to stay with her friend while Miss Dockery's parents were off on a visit. The young ladies were there alone talking and laughing and passing off the time pleasantly until Miss Dockery started to climb up into the loft of the house, which is a low farm residence, to get some onions for dinner. Her foot struck a shot gun and knocked it down. Miss Caldwell was sitting near the fire place in a chair. When Miss Dockery reached the floor again she picked the gun up and went to set it against the wall of the house. The hammer hit a box, the gun fired, and the whole load struck Miss Caldwell in the back of the head, tearing off the entire skull down to her forehead, scattering her brains all over the house. The young lady pitched over into the floor and lay there until Coroner Stow was notified at Dahlonega, who went up that night and held an inquest the next day, and the jury returned a verdict that it was an accident. Mr. Dockery and his wife were returning and were within about a mile of home when it occurred, but didn't hear the gun, and their feelings upon reaching the house and seeing this awful sight can better be imagined than told. The families of both have the deepest sympathy of all the people of Lumpkin county. Both the young ladies were aged about fourteen.

Some snow and a cold wave here this week.

Marshal Grizzle went out into Nimbbleville district last Monday and brought in Tom Croan, who was found operating an illicit distillery. He was bound over by Com. Baker.

The telephone line from Dahlonega to Dawsonville is now in talking order a part of the way and is a great convenience to those in the neighborhood of the offices along the line.

Tax collector, John Walden, was arrested last week by Deputy Marshal Grizzle and carried before Com. Baker, charged with violating the Internal revenue laws some time ago. We understand that the marshal has had the warrant for quite awhile but wanted to give Mr. Walden time to collect the taxes for last year. The defendant has his committal trial next Saturday.

Mr. D. O. Johnson, formerly of New Bridge, Ga., has moved to Dahlonega and opened a complete stock of goods in the building on the corner opposite Mr. H. D. Gurleys, and asks the citizens of Dahlonega and Lumpkin county for a share of their patronage. He has fixed the prices of his goods so it will be to your interest to trade with him. The highest market price paid for country produce. When visiting Mr. Johnson's store you will be treated so clever and nice that you are sure to go again. The business is not new to him which enables the gentleman to know how and what to buy to suit his customers. Give him a call and be convinced of these facts.

Adolphus Sullivan of Lumpkin county until recently, who has been drawing a $50 pension for some time from the state, has acted in such a manner as to cause some of his friends to think hard of him. Not long ago the old man moved down to Jackson county. After reaching his destination he went before the ordinary of that county and made application for a pension in Jackson although he had signed his voucher before the ordinary of Lumpkin county before leaving it, and Judge Huff here has been requested by the ordinary of Jackson to transfer Mr. Sullivan's claim to his county. But this is not the worst of it. Before leaving this county the pensioner gave Anderson & Jones, of Dahlonega, with whom he had been trading on a credit, an order on the ordinary of Lumpkin county for the money when it was received. When a man acts this way he ought to be stricken from the pension roll.

Some months ago a son of Mrs. Mary Sparks of Hall, brought her up from that county and left her down at Thomas Holloways, near the Calhoun mine, together with a months provisions, and left, saying that he would return in 30 days and bring more, but it is the last that has been seen or heard of her son. Holloway being a poor man and unable to care for the old lady she was induced to go off into a house and live by herself, without a bite to eat. Soon ordinary Huff was notified of the woman's condition and he provided for her. A few days ago he was told that the old woman was sick and Judge Huff got Dr. Wheelock to go with him to see her. Upon their arrival they found the old woman alone sitting on the hearth close to a little fire at the end of some pieces of wood she had managed to stick in the fire end foremost, having no ax to cut them and too feeble to do so even if she had. Her victuals were in a vessel on one side of her and what few old bed clothes she had were one the other. Judge Huff hired a lady to give her the medicine and see after her until he could notify her relatives. This has been done but none have responded, although Mrs. Sparks has many in this county who are amply able to take care of her well. Oh you hard hearted devils, are you not afraid the devil will catch you alive for shoving your relatives out into the world, either to starve or freeze if not provided for by the county?

Mrs. R. C. Meaders has returned from Swainsboro.

Mr. John Moore has been sick for a few days, but is better now. Miss Cornelia Mays of Half Way, Ga., is on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. E. R. Meaders.

Mr. and Mrs. Steel left for the city of Boston yesterday, to be gone for several months.

Mr. M. G. Gurley, who left Dahlonega a few days ago for Texas, has located at Clemma, in that state.

Henry Elrod, col., who is wanted here on a council warrant, was brought up from Gainesville on the hack yesterday.

W. P. Price, Jr., is agent for the National Biscuit Co., which makes the best and finest crackers known. Call and see them before purchasing elsewhere. Also has a nice lot of butter on hand.

There is some talk now of the two-horse wagon, which is being returned in this county by its owner for taxes at one dollar only, being purchased for the purpose of sending it to the World's Fair at St. Louis.

Dr. Henry C. Wheelock will leave on the 31st for New York, to do some post-graduate study. Dr. Head will have charge of his office during his absence and will gladly render such services to his patients as may be necessary. Dr. Wheelock will return in March.

Last Sunday morning about 2 o'clock, night watchman Carter, had a race after a couple of fellows who started to run as soon as they saw him. They lit over G. McGuire's wire fence at the old Judge Britain place, and hid so he couldn't find them any more.

Marion Edmonson, a lad of some fifteen summers, was sentenced last Tuesday to work on the streets thirty days for carrying and shooting a slung shot. There are other boys carrying these dangerous and useless things that had better get rid of them before they get into trouble.

It is said that a certain blockader carried liquor near the Ashley school house during Sabbath school services last Sunday and made some boys drunk who attended it. If the next grand jury returns a bill to this effect and the defendant goes before Judge Kimsey he never will forget it.

Mr. Henry Miller of Gaddistown, will get the contract of carrying the daily mail except Sunday, from Dahlonega to that place and on to Dial, for the sum of $701. A Mr. Jones put in a lower bid but he is a son of the postmaster at Gaddistown, which debars him from carrying this mail.

Two and cost was the price fixed by Mayor Baker for Mr. Frank Griffin to pay Tuesday morning, because he took on one drink too much the night previous and broke up a lot of dishes and acted in such a manner so as to scare his wife and children all off from home, together with other female relatives.

If a suit is what you want, now is the time to get one cheap. For the next ten days we will sell suits as follows: For cash, $12.50 suit for $10.00; $10.00 suits for $7.50; $8.00 suits for $6.00, and so on in proportion to price. We make this sacrifice in order to make room for our spring line. Everything else will be sold cheap for cash. Come and see for yourself and be convinced.

T. J. SMITH & BRO.

Two of Billy Eiley's children came in Sunday from Atlanta, where they have been attending school for some time. The older one which joined them later, is still there in school. Billy must be trying to take the advantage of the public money that Lumpkin county pays to (col.) school teachers which is carried away and spent in other parts. All right, Billy. We don't think it would give them the big head. They are built two much like you, an old timer.

Mining Notes.

The Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Co. has something of interest to say in our advertising columns this week.

The Barlow is the only mill in this county that has been able to run regularly. The dry weather couldn't effect it much because the mill is located on the bank of Cane Creek a short distance below the dam and about all the water of the stream can be turned into the canal that runs it.

A gentleman of much mining experience in the west and who owns quite an interest in the Colorado mining district, said while visiting the "Briar Patch" that he would not advise a friend to invest in his Colorado mine, but would not hesitate to advise them to invest in the "Briar Patch", for it was the biggest thing he ever saw.

By this time they have the water on the hill down at the McAttee-Lin mine and will be ready to start their giant at once. Heretofore the ore was worked dry, being a much slower process than by the use of the giant, although the mine paid handsome profits the other way. The gold is excellent, coming ninety cents at the mint. The old Horner mill has been secured and is being moved down. This will increase the mill capacity and enable them to handle the large quantity of ore as it is supplied by the giant.

The stamp mill that takes the place of the Huntingtons down at the Crown Mountain plant is now ready to run as soon as the guide posts are made and put up, that is as soon as it rains enough to enable the plant to be started. Would have been ready sooner but being unable to get some timbers caused the delay. The Crown Mountain is a good gold mine and will pay well when the mill is run steadily with the stamps having the proper drop. Otherwise it won't. Nor will any other gold here or in any other country pay unless this is the case.

Out at Jumbo a sulphuret vein was cut last Friday in No. 2 shaft. It is about three feet broad and pans well. One or more veins have been discovered at this mine nearly every week or so, and it has already convinced all who have seen it that it is one of the best gold mines in Georgia, and under the skillful management of those having it in charge the Jumbo is bound to pay. Mr. J. F. Moore, its president, has been in the business ever since he was a boy. His father taught him to mine. Mr. J. B. Clements, the assistant manager, commenced mining while a lad and has been at the business ever since, and Mr. Fry, the mining Engineer, has mined both here and in the west for many years. In addition to this they have men of much mining experience employed to do the work.

The following gentlemen were visitors to the "Briar Patch" last Thursday, Friday, Saturday: Dr. W. L. Paine, Wm. Belcher, Wm. White, Wm. Hager, Abe Smith, Andrew Perce, George Swartz, Frank Churchill, Jap St. Clair, Charles Wagner, of Nebraska, and W. L. Rush, J. D. Jessup, Holsinger and brother, Mr. Chandler and George Larcum, of Missouri. All were well pleased and exceedingly enthusiastic over what they saw, and to a man are buying stock and verify all that has been told them, and like the "Queen of Sheba" say, "the half has never been told. The company will soon have another lift in operation, and they are also pushing the work on their large canal. After its completion they will build a large dredge boat to operate and work the river bed.

Work at the "Josephine Mine" of the Etowah Gold Mining and Milling Co., is progressing nicely. The new work on the dam, which has just been completed, has been inspected and approved by a number of experts in this line and is regarded as an exceptionally fine piece of work of its kind. The entire work was performed under the direction of Capt. Jaquish and pays high tribute to his engineering skill. Owing to the continued cold and the difficulty in securing finished lumber the operation at the mill cannot be resumed at this time as was expected. The delay, however, will only be temporary as nothing is ever permitted to lag under the hands of Capt. Jaquish, and as the materials arrive every effort will be made to have the mill completed in short order. A survey is about to be made for the purpose of laying out the new water way to the mill and if the plans now in mind are proven to be feasible the new water way may be completed by the time the mill is ready. Notwithstanding the mechanical operations the work of development on the veins in different parts of the property is continued and as each step of the development progresses the practically unlimited resources of this splendid property are further displayed and once the "Josephine" gets into full swing we feel assured that the bright predictions of those who have been upon the property and seen the showing are bound to be realized.

A Spanish-American War Soldier Renowned.

Last week Mr. Arthur Sullivan of Dahlonega, received notice that he had been allowed a pension of six dollars per month for the loss of his health while in the Spanish American war, beginning June, 1900. Mr. Sullivan's war experience has been any thing but pleasant. In June 1896, while a young man of about twenty summers, strong and healthy, he enlisted in the U. S. Army at Atlanta, Ga. Three years thereafter he was honorably discharged away off in Cuba, full of malaria, broke down in health, with no hopes of ever recovering. This is why he draws a pension. About a year after joining he had to go to Sanfago. This place was in a fearful condition for any American to enter. Here dead horses and even dead men were lying in the streets. A little farther away the battle field was covered with the dead. The enemy paid no attention to their men after they were killed but left them where they fell. The Americans first dug trenches and buried their dead. Then those belonging to the enemy were put in wells, rifle pits and at any other place in the ground where a man could be covered with dirt in order to get rid of the awful scent as early as possible. Hospitals were soon established in order to care for our soldiers that were stricken down with the malaria in great numbers every day. From two to four men were detailed from each company to dig graves in a selected cemetery so as to have them ready as fast as needed. Every morning nearly it required a four horse wagon to haul off the dead from the hospital to the cemetery where numbers were placed in graves dug by them only a few days previous. In other words many a soldier dug his own grave. After peace was declared Mr. Sullivan was on duty a good deal of the time when the remains of the soldiers were unearthed and shipped to their relatives in America. The trenches were opened up by the soldiers for the undertakers. A few bodies were found almost as perfect as the day they were buried, while nothing was left of others except a few bones. In the latter case the undertakers would pick up a little handful of dirt and bones, throw it into about a 300 pound iron coffin, lock the lid, mark it and go on, not caring whether it went to the right relatives or not. The graves of those dying at the hospital were distinctly marked so no mistake could be made. Mr. Sullivan was more fortunate than many of his comrades and is now being rewarded. We give these facts to show that the hardships of a soldier are bad and many during war, and often in time of peace, when located in a sickly country.

It was "jimmie," Not "Kitty."

The Chicago boomers who are here after the Democratic National Convention tell this story, says the Washington letter of the New York World.

Most of them slept late in their car out of Chicago. At 9 o'clock next morning a fat woman charged down the aisle of the car and poked with an umbrella into berth No. 4.

"Kitty," she said—"Kitty, get up. It is time for breakfast."

There was no answer from berth No. 4. The fat woman stirred around vigorously with her umbrella again and said, shrilly: "I tell you, Kitty, you must get up. It is time for breakfast."

Then the curtains parted and the pink whiskers of Col. J. Hamilton Lewis, the orator for the Chicago boomers, appeared.

"Madam," he said, "my name is Jimmy, not Kitty."

The fat woman fled wildly to the baggage car.

A little fellow in saying his prayers one night entreated a blessing on his aunt, who was dangerously ill, and gravely concluded with these words: "And please, God, don't forget her address. She lives at 99 Blank street, on the third floor to the right."

Marietta, Ga., was visited by a very destructive fire on Wednesday morning of last week. The loss is estimated to be about $112,000. The Journal, one of the best weeklies in Georgia, sustained five hundred dollars damages.

Dr. Watkins of Ellijay, Ga., candidate for congress from the 9th district, has already made several speeches. He will address the voters of each county in the district before the election.

Wakeful?

Sleeplessness Is a Sign of Nerve Trouble and Should Be Looked To.

There are three different manifestations of sleeplessness.

First, hardly to sleep a wink all night; second, to be awake a long time before falling asleep; third, to fall asleep soon, waking up after several hours and then find it hard to sleep again.

They mean that somewhere in the nerve fibres, somewhere in the blood vessels that carry blood to the brain, something is radically wrong, and must be righted; or the end may be worse than death.

To right it, take Dr. Miller's Nerveine. Some other symptoms of nerve trouble are: Dizziness, Headache, Backache, Worry, Prejudice, Irritability, Melancholy, Lack of Ambition.

They indicate diseases which may lead to Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervous Prostration, Paralysis, Insanity. Nothing will give such quick and lasting relief as Dr. Miller's Nerveine.

My husband had been sick for weeks; could not sit up to leave his bed made. With all the medical help we could get he continued to grow worse. He could neither sleep or eat. Our baby girl was fast away and all called hered, because he could not stand a bit of fatigue. I read of a case of nervous prostration cured by Dr. Miller's Restorative Nerveine. We began giving it to him, and in a few days he was able to be dressed. From that time he steadily improved. Several years his life.—MISS A. G. HARRISON, Freeville, N. Y.

A Severe Cold For Three Months.

The following letter from A. J. Nusham, of Batesville, Ind., tells its own story: "I suffered for three months with a severe cold. A druggist prescribed me some medicine, and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, and eight doses cured me."

A Chattanooga Druggist's Statement.

Robert J. Miller, proprietor of the Read House Drug Store, of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes: "There is more merit in FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR than in any other cough syrup. The calls for it multiply wonderfully and we sell more of it than all other cough syrups combined."
